Bryan Gives Office Seekers Privilege of Filing Their Papers

Washington, March 8.—A number of senators and representatives called on Secretary of State Bryan today, some alone, but many accompanied by constituents looking for positions. The secretary apparently made no direct promises, but accorded to each applicant the privilege of filing his papers, with an understanding that his claim should receive due consideration.

Towards the end of the day, Prof. John Bassett Moore of Columbia University appeared by Mr. Bryan's own invitation. After a conference of nearly an hour, the two went to the white house and talked with President Wilson. No announcement was made as to the result of these conferences, although Professor Moore's name had been mentioned as a likely successor to Chandler Erson, counsellor of the department of state.

Robert H. Lansing, a member of the American side of the British pecuniary claims commission, also was a caller on Mr. Bryan today. He has been mentioned as a likely successor to Chandler Erson, counsellor of the department of state.

Government Health Officers Will Confer With Dr. Friedmann

New York, March 8.—Seventeen tubercular patients were treated by Dr. Friedmann, with the vaccine which he claims is a cure for tuberculosis, at a private clinic late today. Announcement was made that this clinic had been made known that further tests of his treatment, which were to have been made today at the People's Hospital, had been abandoned.

Meanwhile, it was understood, Dr. Friedmann was preparing for a meeting tomorrow with government health officials from Washington before whom tests of his treatment are to be conducted.

Dr. Friedmann declared himself ready to meet the officials tomorrow, inoculate patients for them, explain his treatment and submit a sample of his culture to be taken to Washington. Surgeon John F. Anderson, who met Dr. Friedmann on his arrival in this country, and Surgeon General A. M. Stimson, both of the United States public health and marine hospital service, are the physicians to investigate Dr. Friedmann's vaccine.

Dr. Max Landersman, superintendent of the People's Hospital, said today he had received a favorable report signed by eight eminent specialists in Germany, testifying to the efficacy of the Friedmann culture. The directors of the hospital voted full confidence in Dr. Friedmann. Tuberculosis cases certified to by the city health authorities, will be prepared for him by the hospital authorities when he is ready to resume holding clinics there.

Department Store Men Testify.

Edward Hillman, of Hillman's, one of Chicago's largest department stores, told the Illinois vice commission today he thought there was in some cases a connection between low wages and immorality among women.

When asked as to the moral standards of the girls in his store, Hillman said they "sized up pretty good," but invited the commissioners to "size 'em up" for themselves. Senator Beall, a member of the commission, accepted.

Governor Saves Life, Ties Marriage Knot Then Drops Office

Little Rock, Ark., March 8.—Governor Joe T. Robinson this afternoon commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of W. S. Rhea and performed the marriage ceremony that united Miss Bertha Mertwether of Memphis with his former secretary, Walter G. Hendricks, whom the governor had two days ago appointed circuit judge of Pulaski county. The governor then wrote his own commission as United States senator and sent his resignation as governor to his brother-in-law, Wm. K. Oldham, president of the state senate, who then became acting governor.

"Yes, I do," came the prompt answer. Hillman said that $17 girls who were employed at his store, of these, forty-six girls receive $5, twenty-four get $4; twenty-three earn $5.50 and six receive $3. These last are errand girls, mostly brought in by their parents who want them to learn the business so that they may advance to higher salaries, he said.

"One of your $3 girls lost her virtue, would it hurt your conscience?" asked O'Hara, chairman of the commission.

"Yes, certainly."

"Would you help yourself responsible?"

Would Blame Parents.

"Well now, let's think; here's a girl brought in by her parents, living at home—should I be responsible? I think not. I think the parents would be responsible."

The witness said he never had heard of a girl being blacklisted for bad conduct but did know of a doorkeeper who had suffered that fate for immorality.

"That the vice commission's had been held in secret, he said today, a letter was received by Chairman O'Hara from E. F. Mandel, president of the Mandel brothers, stating that he had raised the minimum wage of juveniles to $4. The juveniles are girls between the ages of 12 and 15 years who are employed on small errands. Whether possible, by reason of the aptness or general fitness of the girl, the wage will be more than $4. In addition, Mandel stated that following a suggestion of the commission, he will employ an investigator to ascertain if applicants can live on the wages they are to receive.

Tells of His Start.

Resuming his testimony, Hillman admitted that he was a self-made man. He started to work at $25 a week as a cash boy.

"Would you live on it?" inquired the chairman of the commission.

"Well, my father earned $14 and my $2 helped out. I walked to and from work."

Readiness of the merchant to agree with the commission surprised and delighted the legislators. For instance, O'Hara asked if it had ever occurred to him to investigate applications for positions, to ascertain whether the applicant could live on the salary in prospect.

It never had occurred to him, but he said, "It's a good idea."

"Mr. Hillman, will you promise the commission to hire such an investigator?"

"Yes, certainly, glad to," he replied.

Asked what he thought a girl could support herself on independently, Hillman said $8 or $9 a week.

"I could live on $12 myself, yes, I could squeeze through on $10, I think," he added.

No Fund for "Movies."

"$8 or $9 would sustain a girl in Chicago, but it wouldn't leave much

MEXICO MAY ASK PERMIT OF U. S.

FEDERALS PROPOSE STATIONING TROOPS ON THE SONORA BORDER.

59 KILLED IN ENGAGEMENT

Battle Lasts Four Hours—Government Troops Advance and Other Conflicts Are Expected.

Mexico City, March 8.—The first serious clash between federal and Carranzistas is reported today to have occurred at Reyna, Coahuila, about midway between Monterrey and Monclova. The engagement lasted four hours, the rebels offering stubborn resistance.

The losses were reported from government sources, and included 26 federal killed and 11 wounded, and 33 rebels killed. The rebel forces have fallen back to Bajan, 30 miles to the north.

Another engagement is looked for soon, as the federales are advancing and endeavoring to follow up their advantage. Only the most meager details of the battle have been received.

Another column of federales is advancing from the west, having marched from Rincón on the northern Mexico railroad. These troops came to Rincón by train from Escuin, Chihuahua.

To prevent clashes between rebels and the American troops, the Mexican war department proposes to send 1000 federales to occupy the border towns in Sonora. To this end it is probable the government will ask the administration of Washington to permit the passage of troops through American territory.

A plan is afoot to reorganize the army, increasing its strength to 100,000 men, and it also is proposed to place in France an order for 150 canons.

PEACE COMMISSIONERS ACTIVE

Attempts to Hold Conference in United States Fail.

Washington, March 8.—Self-appointed peace commissioners who failed in their attempts to hold a conference on American soil for the adjustment of the differences between rival Mexican factions are now en route to Mexico City. Consul Edwards at Juarez, Mexico, reports.

The situation there is undisturbed, he says, but bridges on the Northwestern railway, 70 miles to the south, have been destroyed and there is no telegraph service between Juarez and Mexico City. The consular agent at Guaymas reports railway and telegraph communication destroyed by opponents of the federal government between Guaymas and Hermosillo, where the state troops are in control, and enforcing the state rights dictum of the leaders. The American cruiser Colorado is still off Guaymas. The federal troops there have been ordered to Hermosillo.

AMERICAN IS SHOT.

First Battle of Sonora Rebellion in Progress.

Douglas, Ariz., March 8.—Seventeen federal soldiers were killed in the first battle of the Sonora rebellion at Nacozari, below here today, and one American, J. S. Williams, Jr., manager of the Montezuma Cooper company, was shot in the leg. It is believed that many of the federales were wounded. Constitutionalists sustained no appreciable loss and succeeded in advancing their lines considerably.

The battle began at 8:30 this morning and was still in progress at 3:45 this afternoon, when all communication with Nacozari was interrupted. The fight was precipitated when a force of 500 rebels under Col. Braden was marching to reinforce the rebels which is encamped upon the outskirts of Agua Prieta, encountered part of the federal garrison of 250 men.

Announcement to the Public

On and after March 10 the Big Four Ice & Cold Storage Co. will sell ice for cash only. This policy on our part is forced upon us by the necessity of stopping the losses incident to a credit business, and the increased cost of all of the material that goes into our production. The price of fuel oil has doubled in the past twelve months; the price of labor has materially advanced, as well as every other article used in our production, and it being impractical to raise the price of ice, our only recourse is to run a business on a strictly cash basis, thereby dispensing with some of our force and availing ourselves of other economies consequent thereon.

We have made extensive improvements in our plant since the fire of last year, having largely increased the capacity of our output, and are in a better position than ever before to serve our friends and patrons, and will put forth our best efforts to give you prompt deliveries and satisfactory service at all times.

Trusting to merit your friendship and patronage in the future as we have in the past, we remain, very truly yours,

Big Four Ice & Cold Storage Co.

The two pictures shows occupied the ground floor. The operating rooms where the films are kept were in the other end of the building, so the fire could not have started from these and make its appearance at the rear of the building as it did when it was first seen. It seemed to break out all at once. There was a loud report as of an explosion, and then another. I heard as few as two, and I may have heard four. It is hard to remember these details. But there were explosions.

Furniture Feds Blaze.
When the fire department reached the scene the entire rear wall was in flames. The fire progressed rapidly. The furniture was good food for flames, and it was not long until the entire building was involved. People gathered in crowds on the street to watch it. Policemen hurried here and there; firemen took their posts and kept them; the chief was everywhere directing the work; the steamers were puffing sparks and whistling signals; hose wagons were hurrying back and forth, bringing more pipe for additional water lines. Those who owned property in the vicinity began to gather. They came as young Verfuth came, to look after their own. J. S. Hill arrived and looked in his building and saw that he would suffer only water and smoke damage, and then he joined the spectators; Vesey came and looked on, but kept outside the store.

Journey Narrowly Escapes.
Ed Journey came, went inside his store, looked around, left his overcoat and came outside. Then the wall fell. Now he is thanking the kind Providence that drew his steps to the street and lined him up with others who were lookers-on. Anderson, of Hafner & Anderson, hurried down as soon as he heard of it, and wanted to get inside the store to release his registered pointer dog asleep on a bed under his desk, but when he got there his building was under the fallen wall. W. E. Knight got there after his print shop was buried under brick and mortar. W. E. Soley came down to look and keep a careful eye on the New State House. J. J. Owens of the Waco Electrical company hurried to his store, but found there was no danger that it would spread that far. The list is a long one. Many people gathered there and watched the progress of the fire and the result of the collapse. It was an early morning spectacle that could be called beautiful. If it had not had the attendant tragedy and its loss in money's value.

All Power Cut Off.

The Texas Power and Light company was cautious. With so many wires carrying their deadly and unseen current that produces light and power and heat that turns wheels and lifts elevators and propels cars, there was danger from the living ends of broken lines. All power was cut off. The linemen became busy. Foreman Garrett of the bunch had his men on every pole taking up every loose end cutting in here and cutting out there.

Frank Graves, an active, agile cat with climbers and pliers, made it his especial duty to get the circuits on the north side of Austin clear and safe so that power could be transmitted to the mechanical department of The Morning News, in order that the paper could be finished in the making. But they were careful in all they did, because they knew the danger that hides in that slender line of copper that stretches from pole to pole. But, with all their caution, there were few delays, and the street cars were in commission with not more than an hour's time loss in the schedule.

Firemen Due Credit.

Waco ought to appreciate the efforts of the firemen. They worked heroically at this fire. It got away from them as far as the big building was concerned, because there was more fire than slender streams of water could control.

Their only hope was to confine the flames to the single building, and this they did. There was other damage, but it was not from fire. It came from the collapse, and when the spectators saw the thinness of the walls of that high building there was no surprise at the collapse. It was not the character of construction that is recognized as safe and substantial, according to approved engineering methods.

When the first collapse of the walls occurred it almost caught the West End engine crew. As it was, there was a pile of brick all about the steamer, and it needed many helpers to assist the horses in pulling the steamer from the debris.

Within five minutes that same steamer had found a place across the street and was pumping water as if nothing had happened.

Hotel Clerk on the Job.

Night Clerk Lewis of the State House was right on the job. The fire was nearly black smoke, but he did not propose to take chances. As soon as the flames broke into conflagration size, he began to call the guests over the house telephone. Every guest was aroused and advised that a big fire was raging across the streets; that the chances were there would be no danger, but to keep a watchful eye open. It was "safety first," as they say on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and while it robbed those guests of some of their early morning slumber it was a caution that no one grumbled at, because they realized the importance of it.

Losers Who Can ill Afford It.

I struck open palms with an old acquaintance Saturday morning after the fire. Leo Addie was an opera singer when I knew him in the profession years ago and I have not seen him in years. I did not know he was in town, but when I met him after the fire I learned that he with his wife, Hazel Coulter, had been playing an engagement at the Elmo theatre, putting on a vaudeville turn. Leo has always been a thrifty fellow, and he had saved up lots of his earnings in express money orders. He had $287 put away in this wise, and these were in his trunk in the theatre. In addition to that he and his wife had wardrobe accessories valued at $600. These were in the Elmo theatre at the time of the fire. The chances are they are all lost. It is stuff that is not insured.

J. A. Lemke of the Elmo owed a week's salary to the vaudeville actors, and after the fire he paid them that which was due. It was the only money they had, unless out of the debris they can save their trunks. They have not only suffered the real loss, but they are cut out of their next engagement and maybe others, which will be a serious loss to them. Addie has played through Waco in years gone by and there were days when he made a hit in comic opera.

At the Cosy theatre there were some vaudeville actors and they lost their wardrobe also.

Fireman Is Injured.

Will G. Polk, a fireman of the Herring Avenue station, was injured during the fire yesterday. One of the standing walls fell, and he was caught under it. He was removed to the Curtis & White sanitarium where he is receiving every attention. His back was sprained.

INSURANCE ON THE LOSSES.

List of the Companies Which Held Policies on the Losses.
There was a lot of insurance money involved in this fire. The number of concerns which had losses carried policies in many companies. The Morning News has compiled a list of the principal policies:

The J. E. Horne Building.
The J. E. Horne building, in which the fire originated, was a total loss. The fire made its way from the front to the rear, destroying everything within the four walls, and the walls fell, making it as complete a loss as possible. The insurance on the property was as follows:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Continental $ 2,000
President Washington 5,000
Fireman's 5,000
Scottish Union & National 2,500
Agricultural 5,000
New Haven Underwriters 5,000
With Moore & Moore:
Commonwealth of New York 2,500
Liverpool and London and Globe 2,500

Total $30,000

Hill Printing and Stationery Co.
The Hill Printing and Stationery Co. occupies the building owned by Marshall and Scott, just in the rear of the building in which the fire originated. This building caught fire at the beginning but was extinguished early in the action by the firemen, and the loss to it will be light. The insurance on the building is as follows:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Continental $ 2,000
President Washington 5,000
Fireman's 5,000
Scottish Union & National 2,500
Agricultural 5,000
New Haven Underwriters 5,000
With Moore & Moore:
Commonwealth of New York 2,500
Liverpool and London and Globe 2,500

Total $30,000

The Weibusch Building.
The Weibusch building was located on the corner of Sixth and Austin streets, the Austin avenue frontage being occupied by the Jurney Drug Co. and the Hafner & Anderson jewelry store. Back of the Austin avenue frontage the Weibusch holdings owned a one-story building that fronted on Sixth street and extended to the alley. The building was 50x165 feet in size and was 2-story on Austin avenue only. This building is a total loss by reason of the walls of the Horne building falling on it and crushing it. The part of the building on Sixth street was a brick wall with frame interior, being very light construction and not a very expensive building. The insurance on this building was as follows:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Continental $ 2,000
President Washington 5,000
Fireman's 5,000
Scottish Union & National 2,500
Agricultural 5,000
New Haven Underwriters 5,000
With Moore & Moore:
Commonwealth of New York 2,500
Liverpool and London and Globe 2,500
Fidelity' Underwriters 5,000

Total $30,000

The Cozy Theatre.
The Cozy theatre was owned by A. M. Jacobs. It was in the west side of the Horne building. The fixtures, machinery, etc., are estimated to have been worth in the neighborhood of $10,000. This place was a total loss. It carried the following insurance:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Scottish Union & National $2,000
The Elmo Theatre.

The Elmo theatre, owned by J. A. Lemke, was in the east half of the Horne building. It was a well equipped moving picture concern, with most modern machine and decorations. Mr. Lemke states that it was one of the most complete in the state. He valued his investment at $10,000 and carried a policy of $1,500.

The Hafner & Anderson Company.

The Hafner & Anderson company had a complete stock of jewelry, diamonds, silverware, watches, cut glass and pianos. They estimated their entire investment in stock and fixtures at $25,000. The loss will be very heavy. There was no fire in the store, this being one of the establishments which was crushed under the falling walls. The most valuable part of the stock, however, is in the safe, all diamonds, watches, etc., and these will probably be recovered, as the falling walls could not in any way have damaged the safe. The company carried the following insurance on stock:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Continental $ 2,000
With Dickey & Co. 3,000

The insurance on the fixtures was as follows:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Firemen's 3,000

Total $9,000

Journey Drug Company.

The Journey Drug company is a heavy loss. This establishment was crushed under the falling wall, and there is a heavy damage. The soda fountain appears from the outside to be uninjured as to its marble, but of course this is but conjecture. There was a waste of drugs, many of the containers being broken and the colored liquids passed out with the water in the gutters all during the day. The insurance was as follows on the stock:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Continental $ 500
With West & Searcy: 1,500

The insurance on the fixtures was as follows:

With E. W. Marshall & Co.:
Caledonia 1,500
With W. H. Davis & Co.: 500

Total $2,500

Sentry to Prevent Ship Disasters.

Dundee, Scotland, March 8.—A watchful sentry will henceforth be on duty in the Atlantic ocean to warn vessels of the approach of ice and to assist in averting disasters, such as overtook the Titanic.

Stratton Furniture Company.

The Stratton Furniture company had a reserve stock of furniture in the second floor of the Horne building. He carried $4,000 insurance. He estimated his stock at between $10,000 and $12,000.

Ray Rowell.

Ray Rowell carries a large stock of furniture in the third floor of the Horne building which was a total loss. His insurance was $5,000 with outside agencies and his loss is estimated at $12,000.

Sentry to Prevent Ship Disasters.

Dundee, Scotland, March 8.—A watchful sentry will henceforth be on duty in the Atlantic ocean to warn vessels of the approach of ice and to assist in averting disasters, such as overtook the Titanic.

Same Old Story The World Over

To get "QUALITY" in all lines of merchandise you must go where "QUALITY" is sold.

Ours is a "QUALITY" House

Ever since the opening of our doors our business has steadily grown, and among our thousands of customers we have received naught but praise and words of satisfaction. All of which is brought about by fair dealing, quality foods, courteous treatment and correct prices.

Our system demands a square deal to all and a following of market prices. We pay attention to market fluctuations and charge you accordingly. Others say we are high—they knock, they fret—forgetting that every "knock" they hand us is a "boost."

But the public—the housewife—knows when Stubblefield gets the order the goods are going to be first class and service prompt.

Our eighteen employees, seven wagons and eight telephones are here to give you service, and we have never yet failed to "make good."

The Hetty Green of Chorus Girls.

Imagine a rich chorus girl. Yet the "Follies" at the Academy of Music boasts one, says the Baltimore News. In fact, Miss Eleanor St. Clair, attired in a nifty walking suit, declared yesterday that she is the "richest in the business." She had just returned from a shopping tour and said some complimentary things about Baltimore's stores, even going so far as to say that in the future, she would do much shopping here.

Inquisitive persons naturally ask Miss St. Clair how it all happened. She's frank about it. While touring in Texas several years ago with "The Parisian Model" she invested in oil stocks. Three weeks ago she closed out her holdings at $35,000, added to a bank roll that she had accumulated by thrift, not luck, made an appreciable fortune. She's the Hetty Green of the company, and she's just as social as if she were drawing only $15 per.

While in Texas, Miss St. Clair made another find. That find is now her chum. She is Beatrice Allen, one of the most decorative features of the show, who is seen as Joan of Arc in the "Follies." F. Ziegfeld Jr., producer of the spectacle, was hunting about when he was arranging his cast for a distinctive beauty. Miss St. Clair remembered having seen Miss Allen in Dallas. Texas. Mr. Ziegfeld sent for the young woman, and she was in Paris studying. A cable closed the contract and Miss Allen is now known as the "imported beauty."

MR. AND MRS. I. A. GOLDSTEIN EXPECT RELATIVE GUESTS

As one of the noteworthy features in the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Pessels, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Goldstein will have in their home, Mrs. Goldstein's brother, Constance Pessels, from San Antonio, also Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Pessels with their little daughter from Coleman.

The regular monthly meeting of the Art League occurs on Monday afternoon at half after three o'clock, with Mrs. Allan Sanford, Twelfth and Franklin. The address of the afternoon will be from Miss Kyle of Baylor University. Her subject will be Color in Art.

FAVORABLE REPORTS COME FROM MRS. MARCHMAN

The past two days have brought more favorable reports from the condition of Mrs. Martha Jenkins Marchman, who has lain so very low in Dallas. While she is still a very sick woman, the family is much more hopeful for ultimate restoration to health. All the visitors with the mother, however, are still in Dallas.

APRIL THE FOURTEENTH NAMED AS WEDDING DATE

It is now definite that the wedding of Joe Sanger of this city there will be on the fourteenth of April. There will be a Temple ceremony followed by reception at a downtown club. In addition to his family, the groom will be accompanied from here by his groomsman and personal friends.

BETHROTHAL CARDS COME FROM BEAUMONT BRIDE

MR. AND MRS. T. M. KING COME FROM CLARKSVILLE

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. King arrived from Clarksville in order that the latter might enter the sanitarium. Mrs. King has been seriously ill, and the decision to bring her to Waco was made after her daughter, Mrs. Richard Burleson, who had been with her in Clarksville, returned home. The condition of the patient is much more favorable than it was a few days ago.

MRS. MORDIS FALKNER IS CRITICALLY ILL

At her country home on the East Side, Mrs. Mordis Falkner lies very, very low. Her sisters, the Mesdames Scott of Dallas and M. D. Baker are with her constantly, also her mother, Mrs. J. C. Riley, in addition to Mrs. Falkner and Mrs. C. Falkner. The physicians report that it will be another day or two before she can be pronounced beyond the danger line. In the meantime, many friends are anxious inquirers concerning her condition.

THE NORTH WACO SCHOOL TO PRESENT PROGRAM

One of the interesting events for the incoming week is the entertainment by the children from the North Waco public school. This will be, for the older students, an Old Maid's Conference, and for the smaller ones, a Flower-drawing, quite appropriate to the opening of the flower season. The school, both teachers and students, are jubilant over the prospect of handsome new brick modern school. This entertainment is to begin fund with which to have a library for the new building.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE FOR DISTRICT PRESIDENT

MRS. C. C. TERRY ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. WILLIAMS

In recognition of the visit to the neighborhood of Mrs. Williams from Little Rock, Mrs. C. C. Terry formed a company of sixteen matrons for a sewing bee and other pleasure. The room was fragrant with season blossoms, especially the daffodil and the sweet pea. The Misses Marcelline Flanagan and Alta Harrison gave some entertaining readings while the guests plied their embroidery needles. Mrs. Terry gave a very dainty one plate luncheon course. Mrs. Williams thus enlarged her circle of Texas friends under highly agreeable conditions. Among those in this circle were the Mesdames Julian Prade, Chauncey Prade, J. S. Harrison, Turner Hubby, J. M. King, R. J. Parsons, Price of Plainview, J. B. Sawtelle, Hunter, Wilson, J. T. Flanigan and Ginn.

GOODBYE TO HALLEY TORBET IN A BUNCO GAME

Anticipating the departure of her son, Halley Torbet, for an extended sojourn in the west, Mrs. W. C. Torbet entertained a company of her son's young friends on Friday evening. The diversion, other than general jollity, was bunco. The prize, a jontul bunch, fell to Jay Sneed, and perhaps it was passed to a more fair possessor. The booby was drawn by Miss Hawiawatha Crosslin. The entire evening was full of merriment, the more general exchange being during the refreshment service. The closing was a hearty au revoir to the young host. Among those especially noted was Miss Motie Case who came up from Cameron to participate. The other winners were Misses Frances Blanchard, Ernie Stovall, Alice Sneed, Helen Pudig, Ruth Coffelt, Thea Brown, Pharris Stribley and Velma Torber. Misses Nathan Buchanan, Gabriel Harmon, Russell Brewington, Fred Villent, William Weatherby, Ward Dutton and Frank Barnett.

THE HENRY DOWNS CHAPTER TO MEET ON FRIDAY

As March winds, flying dust and dirt, are apt to injure any complexion, this information will be of special value right now. If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercerized wax. Applied night, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercerized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles and furrows, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxonite in a half-pint witch hazel will prove wonderfully effectual.

LONDON PRESS ON WILSON.

Woodrow Wilson comes to the presidency when the older days are over and a new era is approaching. Few American presidents have entered office so well equipped; few have faced so many difficulties.—Morning Post.

Woodrow Wilson has impressed the Angle-Saxon race of both the new and the old worlds with his sterling honesty. That is the quality above all others which democracies need, and Americans must be congratulated upon having found such a man for chief magistrate.—Daily Chronicle.

Mr. Wilson represents the new spirit visible in more than one country, but nowhere so clearly as in America. The progressive world looks for much from him.—Chronicle.

POOR THING, BUT MINE OWN.

I've heard a lot of babies squall, I've heard 'em East and West, But after hearin' of 'em all, I like my kid's yell best.

It doesn't worry me a bit, For every time I hear him tune up to his heart's content It's music to my ear.—Arizona Star.

I've heard a lot of canines bark, I've heard 'em East and West, But after hearin' of 'em all, I like my dog's bark best.

It never flusters me a bit, Nor worries me—no sir; But darned if I can stand the yap Of my near neighbor's cur.—Denver Republican.

I've heard a lot of people talk, I've heard 'em East and West, But, after reading all of 'em, I like my talk the best.

It never pesters me a bit, Nor bothers me—no sir; But, Lord, how other people's talk Does bore and weary me.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

I've read a lot of common verse, I've read it East and West, But, after reading all of 'em, I like my verse the best.

It doesn't weary me a bit— I read it with delight; But all you other fellows' verse— Why, honest, it's a fright.—Nazionale Banner.

I've smoked a lot of punk cigars, I've smoked 'em East and West; But after smoking of 'em all, I like my own hemp best.

It doesn't irritate my thought, I provoke a caustic word— But that last box that Jimmy bought, East Texas stuff—good Lord!

It there's any substance in the growing report that the legislature means to adjourn March 14 the state will be reminded that it is pursuing the course of legislatures similarly conditioned in the past—coming in like an investigator and going out like a quitter.

Strange the London suffs have had nothing to say about Bernard Shaw. His characterizations in "Man and Superman" give them warrant to get busy on his person. The Irish Barbossa never did think much of the stability of the feminine mind.

If Mr. Taft's advocacy of free links for the poor were practiced in golf-crazed San Antonio what a treat it would be to watch that town's west side disporting itself on the green after the day's labor in mud and limestone street foundations.

The vice president said of the jam in his office on his first official day, that only peanuts were needed to make him feel as if he were in a monkey cage. Evidently he regards office seekers as fleas.

The apparent reluctance of certain prominent and repudiated republicans to give up their jobs renders it not unlikely that the president will have to use the big stick on the big stickers.

The world do move! Think of a professional baseball player having to pay an income tax.

WOMEN ON THE SCHOOL BOARD.

The esteemed San Antonio Express, in the van or at the head of every movement for the genuine betterment of civic operations of every character in the metropolis, comes out strongly for the election of women to the school board. The sentiment is growing in Texas, widely and rapidly, that the direction and supervision of the work of the schools, no less than the actual care and instruction of the children, is properly the work of women in as great degree as it is the work of men—the work of expert women, of the mothers, of those who have been trained in educational systems and the mental guidance of children. This feature of the Mothers' Club ticket for the school board of Waco has been heartily endorsed by a substantial part of the Texas press, as those who have noted the reprinted comment on this page during the past three months are well aware. In at least two southern cities which, like San Antonio, are advocating amendment of the school systems' charters in order to permit the admission of women to the school board, a convincing array of reports and statistics showing the success that has attended the service of women throughout the nation as school trustees, superintendents, supervisors and official visitors has been given extensive publicity through the press and women's clubs.

The voters of Waco have already been given the opportunity to see exactly what form will be assumed by the feeble opposition to the service of women on the school board, dedicated to expert direction of the concerns of the children. The adverse opinion thus far expressed must be considered with personal reference to the source.

Get Waco's name up. Build a great city, in fact.

Mexico is getting her first real taste of "state rights" during a period of national wrongs.

THE FIRE DISASTER.

In keeping with the trend of Waco's growth and the newer spirit of her progress, we feel sure that a substantial building will soon arise on the central corner where occurred the disastrous fire of Saturday morning. The loss to individuals has fully been as great as was at first estimated by property owners and proprietors of stores, but while this loss is to be regretted, if the destruction of the buildings is to result in better, stronger construction on that site, this feature of the fire will not be so serious. If the ruins are to be neglected and the lots neglected for long, the loss will be a serious and most disagreeable one to the city, in view of the locality.

The mass of public sentiment in San Antonio is in favor of the proposed change, and since no one has any interest in the matter, it would seem that the legislature could not do a more graceful act than to permit the citizens of San Antonio to carry out their express wishes, and it is believed this view will be taken by the members of the Legislature. Such an act will also be a graceful compliment to womanhood and a deserved recognition of the capacity of women to take a part in the management of school affairs.

Surely no one can be more interested in the education of the child than its mother, nor is there any one as a rule better equipped for directing this educational work. Women are the natural teachers of children from the time the infant is able to respond to the mother's influence. It is particularly fitting then that not only in the practical work of education in which the teacher is employed, but in the department that directs the course of operation that selects the methods to be employed, that is responsible for the health and the morals of the pupils, women should have an important part.

Moreover, as has been said, this is a question involving purely local interest, and it is improbable that the legislature will fail to give the people the right of local self-government in the regulation of their school affairs.

Misogamists and pessimists develop early in Kansas, it would appear from this:

FIGHTING THE FLY.

In discussing Mary, Queen of Scots, Carl Welch made the following comment: "She failed to seize the psychological moment and utilize the opportunity for peace—she got married." School note in Whitewater Independent.

GET WACO'S NAME UP.

It is unusually gratifying to The Waco Morning News to note the ready and enthusiastic response to its appeal for organized, consistent publicity conducted by the business interests of this city and the citizenship generally, to get Waco's name up, in Texas and out of Texas. This newspaper offered no suggestion of direct method by which this consistent, persistent campaign should be inaugurated and maintained, preferring to submit the vital proposition to the progressive merchants and property owners of Waco for action directed by those who realize the benefits of widespread advertising of the city's assets and advantages—the benefits to the city and to its every interest; the benefits that have accrued to the large communities of Texas through such a campaign. These last are too well known to require detailed exploitation; the alacrity with which the reminder printed in these columns Friday was taken up by business interests is the best evidence that the powerful results of municipal advertising, steady publicity, are thoroughly known here.

This is to command to the readers, especially to the business men who read, the communication printed elsewhere in this morning's issue from Mr. Sol Hirschberg, in endorsement of The News' appeal for a publicity campaign. The method Mr. Hirschberg suggests is that the Waco Business Men's Club conduct the campaign, initiating the campaign at a general meeting that will consider carefully and from a business standpoint the necessity for such a work. We hope his suggestion will have speedy fruition; that not only the Business Men's Club, but other business and labor organizations, civic clubs and all associations concerned in Waco's progress will act, will initiate and co-operate in the plan. Himself an extensive advertiser, thoroughly convinced of the need of organized, unceasing publicity in the conduct of one of the largest business enterprises in Central Texas and assured that it brings big results, Mr. Hirschberg is assured that the method must be applied to the welfare of the city—the fountain head of all business for individuals and concerns. He employs an expert publicity agent, an advertising head, for the same reason that the big cities of Texas have publicity secretaries and departments under the direction of their chambers of commerce. He believes that a great city cannot be built unless home-seekers and investors in other parts of the country are enlisted in its growth by instruction in the opportunities it affords for placing capital.

Let this sensible discussion be continued, and let it crystallize very soon into organization.

Get Waco's name up. Build a great city, in fact.

The Waco News refuses to take our word for it that this paper, for one, is in advance of the Waco paper in advocacy of equal suffrage, and insists that we produce the goods. As The News doesn't like to reprint its own utterances—some of them look decidedly tame when we read them a second time—then we shall endeavor to make up an envelope of clippings from back issues of the paper to satisfy the Waco man's demand.—Port Arthur News.

Charity for Texas.

Corporation Christi Callier: We notice where newspaper men refused to remain in the house chamber because of the low temperature, but we are inclined to think the report without foundation. Only men with reinforced concrete nerves and walrus hide complexions can aspire to newspaperdom, and such have no regard for date, hour, temperature, temperament, surroundings, precedent, eternal fitness or anything else. Being a newspaper man—well, being a newspaper man is being a newspaper man. There is nothing to which it can be compared.

But it is different when a fellow is a special correspondent. This sort of newspaper man is in a class by himself. He used to be an ordinary reporter and generally has been a good newspaper man. But when a reporter gets good enough to be a special correspondent and have his name signed to the articles he sends in, regardless of the telegraph tolls or the cost of white paper, he naturally becomes a sort of aristocrat. While the Callier may be right as to the stamina and other qualifications of the ordinary item-slaving variety of reporter, it is surely short of adequate information when it comes to considering the special man such as is to be found in the city. In these cities ladies organized and bought eggs in car lots elsewhere and shipped to these towns and sold them direct to the consumers at 20 to 24 cents a dozen. In this way the egg trust did not get a market for its Chicago eggs; it is now trying to unload last year's eggs at 12 cents a dozen.—Tyler Courier-Times.

Raffles de Facto.

Waco is up against an unusual condition in the community just now, and there is the fact the the joint recorded was a tie. The News of that city, becomes indignant over the fact that the state law provides that in such event, the election shall be decided by drawing lots, and lays it down cold that a Waco election isn't any such trifle as a raffle. We'll admit that it doesn't seem just right that such a method of chance should determine the outcome of an election; still, it's no more of a raffle than half of the campaign pledges that are made. The pledges are formed on a guess that they'll attract the voters. But it's only a guess; the candidates have to take as much of a chance in framing up the bait as they would in drawing straws to decide the Waco election.—Port Arthur News.

Indeed, the bunch's conduct resulted in no hardship—it was a charity, a sweet, sensible, salutary, significant, syndicated, strong service to the State. May the hall be cold often and the excuses for exodus of our little clan many! Indeed, why should a Flinty, an Armistead, a Briggs, a Lochridge, a Fitzgerald, a DuBoise, a Fernandez, a Thornton, a Newton, a Pricer, a staff correspondent of any build, brain or backbone, suffer the indignity of chills and the insult of wholesale-rates cigars' smoke? We say that the American public spends $10,000,000 a year for window and door screens in a futile attempt to exclude a lively insect which insists on getting into the house every time the doors are opened. He believes also that the method of swatting the flies, using fly-paper or indoor traps or poisons is ineffective, but may help. His method is to make use in various ways of the usual wire-mesh flytrap, which is familiar to almost every one, in such a way as to turn the tables on the flies and "put them in jail and let ourselves out." The plan involves, of course, the abolition as far as possible of all breeding and feeding places for flies and the application of the flytrap mentioned above to the garbage can, to the screens on windows, to the covers on manure bins, etc., all of which can be done by a little mechanical ingenuity.

Garbage cans are on the market which have a cover larger than the can and not fitting down closely on it so that the flies gain access to the can under the cover and escape through a hole in the cover over which is fixed a flytrap.

In fighting the fly, Hodge has found that the essentials of a successful campaign are to transfer the fight against the fly from the house to outside doors, and then to exterminate it.

Another essential feature in a town or city is that households must co-operate. One ignorant or careless home can breed flies enough to vitiate the best efforts of a whole town.

Hodge has succeeded in his neighborhood in practically eliminating flies; he uses no screens in windows and doors, and can sit out doors or have windows or doors open at any time without molestation.

As flies begin to breed early in the spring and as they breed with marvelous rapidity, the time to arrange for a fly campaign is in the winter.

Abusive.

Those who studied the weather forecasts for February learned how reliable they are. When the forecast said fair and warm, it sleeted; and when snow or rain was promised, we knew to get our fishing tackle out and make for the river. The almanac never missed a single day during the month. The most pleasant day in February was that on which it was predicted a blizzard would form over Texas and move eastward.—Messenger.

Mr. Callan should never abuse the almanac. It is the editor's best friend. It tells him just what potential should avoid getting stabbed next Tuesday and the depth of the Yangtze estuary. It gives him the height of Mt. Mukersaki and the population of Eef, Abyssinia. It's weather forecast and seed directory are infallible—of the past facts on which these are based. It is a great work and deserves more kindly consideration. It is so important that it is entitled to

Texas Viewpoints

Announcement.

While it is not properly Viewpoint's function to announce coming features in the newspaper that supplies his beer and skittles, here is an instance when he may take to himself the part and may gratify a pleasure by promising that which he is certain the unlimited, unsatisfied and discriminating readers of his column will find equally a pleasure in fulfillment. From time to time Viewpoints will reprint, in proper proportions, the sometime views (rather the origin of the present views) of Col. Roy Stump, editor of The Evening News of Port Arthur, a thriving and delightful entry to our great state, that is connected by a shell road with a place called Beaumont, and is one of our best motor-car-drive termini on the east-by-south shore. These views will have to do with the all-absorbing question of equal suffrage—which the editor of the Austin Statesman and State Press refer to crudely as "woman suffrage."

Viewpoints's affection for and immersion in this cause is well known, so well known that it will be relief no less than edification to his readers to note how an older and better writer puts the precious points. Thus formally to announce the feature:

Judicial notice. Admire the almanac, Mr. Callan, for it is the finest fiction since Munchausen.

Cruel Comparison.

The Timpson Times flippantly says: "We make a motion that Company B go over to Mexico and tell those people to quit making so much fuss. And if necessary give them a good spanking." This reminds us of orators of 1860-61 who assured us that the Yankees would not fight and that a thimble would hold all the blood that would be shed.—Carthage Register.

The war is over. Register! the war has been over since 1865. Can't you ever forgive the Yankees? To compare them with the back-performing piffers across the border—words fail us.

George William Curtis was right:

"The War of the — can no

A Baltimore man having ruled that a man who gives his son to his wife "is no man at all," the Waco News is led to suggest that his honor should have expressed his opinion of the wife who would accept such an offering. However, that is no worse than for a man with a salary of $15 or $20 a week blowing half of it in at the saloons before he gets home on pay day.—San Antonio Express.

The egg trust which stored eggs last spring and summer at a cost of 10 to 12 cents a dozen, in the belief it would sell them for 20 to 50 cents a dozen in the winter months, were knocked out in Chicago, New York, Cleveland and one or two other big cities. In these cities ladies organized and bought eggs in car lots elsewhere and shipped to these towns and sold them direct to the consumers at 20 to 24 cents a dozen. In this way the egg trust did not get a market for its Chicago eggs; it is now trying to unload last year's eggs at 12 cents a dozen.—Tyler Courier-Times.

HAVE A BIRTHDAY DINNER

"Play" and "Pink" Downs Come Up From Temple to Attend Social Affair With Foster Fort.

A dozen congenial friends sat together last night at a birthday dinner; old-timers talked of old times and new-comers were told of the days of long ago, and a good wife, who made the thirteenth of the party, was allowed to stand and look on so as not to make the unlucky number at the feast.

This birthday dinner was a reunion of boys who were real boys together, and it brought up pleasant memories of forty years ago and thereabouts. There is a bit of sentiment in this meeting. F. F. Downs, who was "Play" to his intimates, and P. F. Downs, who was "Pink" to his intimates, were orphans when they were small in child life. They went to live with the family of Col. W. A. Fort. There were two Fort boys and one Downs boy, and one Fort girl and one Downs girl, "Play" and "Pink" and Foster Fort paired, and Mrs. Fort and Kate Downs were great chums. Thus it was that these two families grew up together. The two Downs boys are among the leading people of Bell County. They are bankers, developers,

CORN CLUB BOYS HAVE A MEETING

NATHAN BUCHANAN AND SAM ARNOLD ARE UNANIMOUSLY RE-ELECTED TO OFFICE.

QUICKSALL MAKES A TALK

Advises the Youngsters How to Go About a Business Method in Farming—Other Speakers.

An address by J. L. Quicksall, special agent for the United States department of agriculture, election of officers for the ensuing year, and brief talks by County Demonstration Agent J. A. Pipkin and J. H. Quilliam, a prominent farmer of the county, were features of the annual meeting of the McLennan County Boys' Corn Club.

The new officers of the organization are:

President, Nathan Buchanan (re-elected); Vice-president, Rudolph Bletsch.

Secretary, Sam Arnold (re-elected); Assistant Secretary, Kyle Lawson.

The meeting was one of the last attended that has been held here for months, although many of the members were kept at their homes getting their farm work well under way while the weather is fair. There were fifteen boys present.

J. L. Quicksall's Talk.

Mr. Quicksall told the boys there is a great demand for the right kind of farmers that they are drawing large salaries as the managers of great plantations and those who own their own places are making large amounts of money.

Aside from raising the best corn that can be produced on the land being cultivated, Mr. Quicksall reminded the boys that the mere production of this corn is but half the game. First, the raising of bumper crops systematically and methodically, so that an accurate record of cost in money any time is kept and the profit figured out. This is of educational value to every boy and man who makes a success. Second, when the corn is in the barns, the next thing to be considered is how it can be used to the best advantage.

If the corn is to be rightly disposed of, it must be fed to thoroughbred stock, carefully selected. To sell the corn at so much a bushel right from the field is usually to get rid of it at a lower figure than could be realized if it was fed to stock or held for

Mr. Quicksall said that right now he would be able to sell all of the good seed corn he could get his hands on for from $2 to $2.50 a bushel, and he assured the boys they could do likewise if they raised the No. 1 article.

That the business of farming is the biggest business in the country, was a further statement made by the expert. Let the farmer have anything happen to him and the merchant and banker will immediately feel the effect of the trouble, hence it spreads to all lines of business.

He encouraged the boys to stick to their work, but he warned them that they would have plenty to competition, as there would be several thousand Texas boys who would be members of the corn clubs in the state this year and who would enter the contests for the greatest yield.

Thorough preparation of the land before planting was one of the points which Mr. Quicksall stressed in his talk, saying this is half of the making of the crop.

He said the cotton seed meal and acid phosphate, used sparingly, might help the corn crops in this country somewhat, but that he would not advise using too much commercial fertilizer. Barn yard manure, if it had been spread early enough, would have done good, but he thought it too late for this now.

Demonstration Agent Pipkin.

County Demonstration Agent Pipkin also added emphasis to the advice of Mr. Quicksall to properly prepare the soil first. He said the boys had time yet to get in good crops of corn, and he urged them to get to work.

He said that he had visited four schools Friday and believed he had added 199 members to the club in this county. He said he wanted the club to be one of the largest, if not the largest in the state.

He spoke of the organization of neighborhood clubs and said he had interested teachers in several sections of the country in such organizations. The meetings are to be held at night so that the boys will lose neither time from school nor from their crops.

He told the boys that he would gladly help them at any time he could in solving their problems.

Re-elections Are Unanimous.

The election of officers came next. Nathan Buchanan, president of the club, stated that he felt he had received sufficient honors from the club and that he should not stand in the way of some other fellow. Hence, he said, he did not care to have his name considered for re-election.

Sam Arnold, in effect, said the same thing, both boys referring to their trip to the National Corn Exposition held at Columbia as one of the good things which they had received through the club.

However, when nominations were called for the re-election of each was unanimous.

Mr. Pipkin added that he thought their administration of the affairs of the club had been wise and he believed the club had acted for the best in having them serve again.

The vice president and assistant secretary were elected after but little debate.

J. H. Quilliam.

J. H. Quilliam, a farmer of the country, who was present, was then called upon for a talk. He made a brief speech to the boys in which he declared that he believed the best corn could be grown in rows six feet apart, and he gave examples of his work along the old way as compared with the crops made by his two little boys last year. The eldest raised the best crop last year, 6 bushels to the acre.

The meeting was adjourned after President Buchanan had given notice that the club would meet again at some date in April, the exact time to be announced at a later meeting.

Those present at the meeting were Kyle Lawson, Nathan Buchanan, Sam Arnold, Mercer Buchanan, William Buchanan, Edwin Carson, Willis Fiser, Lawrence Oswald, Robert Oswald, Ru-Dolph Bletsch, Walter Schaffer, Garland Armstrong, Willie Schaffer.

Mrs. L. J. Armstrong of Speegleville, route 1, who is very much interested in the progressive steps being taken by the boys, was present at the meeting, accompanied by her grand-daughter.

PUTTING IN A NEW CABLE

Brazos Valley Company Extending Its Facilities on North Fifth Street and to Herring Avenue.

Having some time ago put in a conduit out North Fifth street, before the paving went down, the Brazos Valley Telegraph and Telephone company of this city yesterday at noon put a force of men at work putting a cable in that conduit as an extension to the service.

They are putting in four 400-pair cables from the office of the company to Herring avenue, along North Fifth street. This will provide accommodations for 1500 new subscribers in that part of the city. The cable, conduit, etc., represents a permanent investment of $80,000, and it is being done in line with the promise made some time ago by the company to extend the system in Waco. This is the beginning of many extensions that are to be made by this company. The additional facilities will result in more subscribers and more subscribers will mean an increased "circulation" for those who are now subscribers. It means more results for the grocer, the butcher and the dry goods man, as they will then be able to serve more people through the telephone facility.

The Destruction of Sodom

Today's International Sunday School Lesson.

BY W. L. ROBERTSON, Beaumont, Texas.

Read the four chapters, Genesis Eighteen to Twenty-one.

In the humidity of the midday oriental sun, Abraham sat in his tent door under the shading protection of the branches of the oaks of his friend Mariah. Was it the sun glisten in the atmosphere that made him nod? But suddenly he was wide awake looking at three strangers standing a little way distant and facing him. Being an hospitable man, he arose and hurried forward to meet them and to make offer of hospitality. The sudden appearance of the strangers had so impressed Abraham that he addressed them in words that implied his recognition of them as heavenly visitors. Good men are always hospitable and kind. This man of God supplied his visitors with water for their feet, very much like our custom of furnishing a wash basin and towels for the face and hands of visitors who take meals with us. Sarah, the Princess, no longer Sarai or bitterness and contention, made cakes while Abraham took thick cream or butter with milk and a freshly dressed calf and when all was prepared he stood respectfully before his guests while they ate.

These visitors had two missions with Abraham. The greatest of the three told Abraham of the early fulfillment of the promise of a legitimate son. Sarah, standing listening behind the flap of the tent laughed scornfully at the thought of a son being born to those beyond the age of life as were Abraham and herself. The great visitor, Jehovah, called attention to Sarah's laughter, and asked, "Is anything too wonderful for Jehovah?" Sarah attempted a denial of her having lied but God rebuked her with a but a contradiction. There are in the world many followers of Sarah who need to realize that there is nothing too hard, or too wonderful for Jehovah. In this case it was true that God's extremity was God's opportunity.

Two of the men went on their way down into the plain to Sodom. Jehovah remained and conversed with Abraham, revealing unto him His purpose to destroy Sodom. Here is given a remarkable illustration of prayer. "Will thou consume the righteous with the wicked?" asked Abraham. Hep lead first that the Lord spare the city for the sake of fifty righteous therein. There were not fifty righteous in the city and Abraham plead for the forty five. There were not forty five and he plead for the forty. There were not forty and he plead for the thirty. There were not thirty and he plead next for the twenty. There were not even the ten. But there were not even the ten Jehovah would have spared the whole city from destruction, as He promised Abraham. "The supplication of righteous man" availed "much in its working." James V:16.

In the past few years 45,000 Parisians have been won over to the church, who before lived without any kind of religion. Everywhere is seen the growth of a new spirit in France. The Reign of Terror established by the Jacobinism of the last decade is over. "Behold I was dead and am alive again" Thus speaks the church in France.

Millionaire Gives Most Expensive Dinner To Family.

(New Britain, Conn., Dispatch.) The record for expensive dinners in New Britain is held momentarily by William H. Hart, president of the Stanley works, who used $2,200 stock certificates as place cards and souvenirs at a dinner party to thirty children and grandchildren. When the guests entered the dining room each found a certificate for forty shares of Stanley works stock, now quoted at $65, at his plate. The total value of the gifts is $66,000.

Laughter Is Divine.

St. Francis of Assisi expressed in loftier and bolder language than any earthly thinker the conception that laughter is as divine as tears. He said his monks the mountaineers of God. He never forgot to take pleasure in a bird as it flashed past him, or a drop of water as it fell from his finger. He was, perhaps, the happiest of all the sons of men," says Gilbert Chesterton. "Yet this man," continues the author, "undoubtedly founded his whole policy on the negation of what we think the most impious necessities.

Why was it that the most large-hearted and poetic spirits of that age found their most congenial atmosphere in these awful renunciations? Why did he who loved where all men were blind seek to blind himself where all men loved? Why was he a monk and not a troubadour? We have a suspicion that if these questions were answered, we should suddenly find that much of the enigma of this silent time of ours was answered also."

The "Burnett Bill."

"South America is to be the continent of the twentieth century, as North America was of the nineteenth." This is a prediction based on the considerable influx of immigration into Argentina, Chile and Brazil. In ten days last November 17,530 immigrants landed at Buenos Aires. The flow of immigration to South America and to Canada is alarming some of our statesmen. The present agitation in this country for the restriction of immigration has not a little of the "sectarian" element in it. Dr. Eliot of Harvard, in a letter to a member of congress, mentions the fact that immigration is opposed by some on the ground that its continuance "will increase the power of the Catholic church." Dr. Eliot remarks that the Catholic church is entitled to all the benefit she may get from that source. The compromise "Burnett Bill" just agreed upon by the senate and house pleases nobody. "The idea is," says the Baltimore Sun, "that the most undesirable aliens come from countries where illiteracy is most common. But it fails to meet the situation. Here ability to read and write is no test of character. Will the new test shut out anarchists, black-hand terrorists and thieves? It may slightly reduce the volume, but will it improve the quality?"

Renaissance in France.

There is an interesting article in a recent number of the Hibbert Journal on the present situation in France. It is a story of a renaissance. The author, Henry V. Arkeil, tells us that

IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED, PLEASE TRY "SYRUP OF FIGS"

NOTHING LIKE THIS DELICIOUS FRUIT LAXATIVE TO CLEANSE
YOUR STOMACH, LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS OF SOUR BILE, GASES, POISONS AND CLOGGED-UP WASTE.

You know when your liver is bad, when your bowels are sluggish. You feel a certain dullness and depression, perhaps the approach of a headache, your stomach gets sour and full of gas, tongue coated, breath foul, or you have indigestion. You say, "I am bilious or constipated and I must take something tonight."

Most people shrink from a physician, they think of castor oil, calomel, salts or cathartic pills. It's different with Syrup of Figs. Its effect is as that of fruit; of eating coarse food; of exercise. Take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight and you won't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged-up waste matter, sour bile and constipation poisons move on and out of your system, with contempt.

Thirty minute study of the tragedy of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. Because of their intemperance, their licentiousness, their debauchery and their forgetting God and comparing Waco with Sodom of old.

Is there danger of her ever being destroyed in the same manner? Servant inhabitants of Sodom still live in Waco.

After the lesson study reassembling of school reports, birthday offerings and closing song.

Immediately following the close of the morning's preaching service begins, in charge of F. N. Calvin. All cordially invited.

BETTER THAN SPANNING

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions.

Send no money, but write here today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The fate that befell Lot's wife causes us to sympathize with the good man and wonder if her influence was not largely responsible for many of his apparent weaknesses. She would not heed the solemn warnings but looked longingly back at Sodom and who turned to a pillar of salt. Two thousand years ago Josephus, the Jewish historian, claimed that this pillar of salt was still standing and that he had seen her with his own eyes. Dr. Price once told me an odd story of having seen this pillar and of having broken off one of her fingers as a souvenir, but, said he, "the piece which I had placed in my traveling bag had melted when I looked the next morning and returning to the pillar I found the finger apparently grown out again."

Short Sayings From the Christian Herald.

The best "Amen" to a prayer is going ahead to carry it out.

Reading from the Word is not the proper way to develop a hunger for it.

Many a champion who has conquered himself is unknown in this world.

It is easier to be miserable than to be happy, and many follow the handier way.

Treated properly, a broken resolution may be mended, and so made almost as good as new!

A good conscience is a continual Christmas.

A disciplined conscience is a man's best friend. It may not be his most amiable.—Phelps.

Novelty Notions.

The Christian Endeavor World suggests the following novelties:

A convention committee scrapbook, in which the committee in charge of a Christmas Endeavor convention gathers up every printed record of its work and passes the scrap-book along to the next committee, who will find it invaluable.

A society history going as far as possible in the annals of the society and presenting, compactly and brightly, its leading events.

A "sister's" card, reading: "To any usher. The bearer is a stranger. Please give him a god seat, and oblige the Christian Endeavor Committee."

An anonymous meeting, for which each person prepares a written testimony, giving a bit of his own experience. These are unsigned, are collected, and are distributed at random (to be read aloud).

A junior committee known as "Lord's Day Defenders," formed for the encouragement of better Sabbath-keeping. Upon this committee the new members may be placed if they come in after the other committees are filled.

A public library committee, whose duty it is to report to the society the best books to be placed in the public library, and to suggest to the librarians others they would like to see added.

And to the Endeavorers in their schools.

ARMY OFFICER'S TIPS.

Dallas Dry Goods Company

DALLAS, TEXAS

Capital and Surplus Approximately $2,000,000
WORK ON THE BIG BUILDING HAS BEGUN

Our Business

Is the Co-Operation of Organized Retail Merchants and Our Profits Will Be From Factory to Consumer.

Our Profit-Sharing Plan of Doing Business Today

vs.

Our Grandfathers' Plan of Doing Business in Vogue by Other Wholesale Houses

The five principal necessities of any commercial enterprise are: (1) Line of business. (2) Capital. (3) Sales. (4) Expenses. (5) Profit. If you care fully study our plan you will find that these requirements are fully covered.

First: Our business is to sell everything in the dry goods line, including rugs, carpets and accessories in the dry goods business.

Second: Our capital stock being distributed among thousands of retail merchants will give us greater influence than any individual merchant or close corporation.

Third: Our sales will be large, by reason of the extensive lines handled, the enormous field covered, and particularly because of the interested co-operation of thousands of profit sharing stockholders.

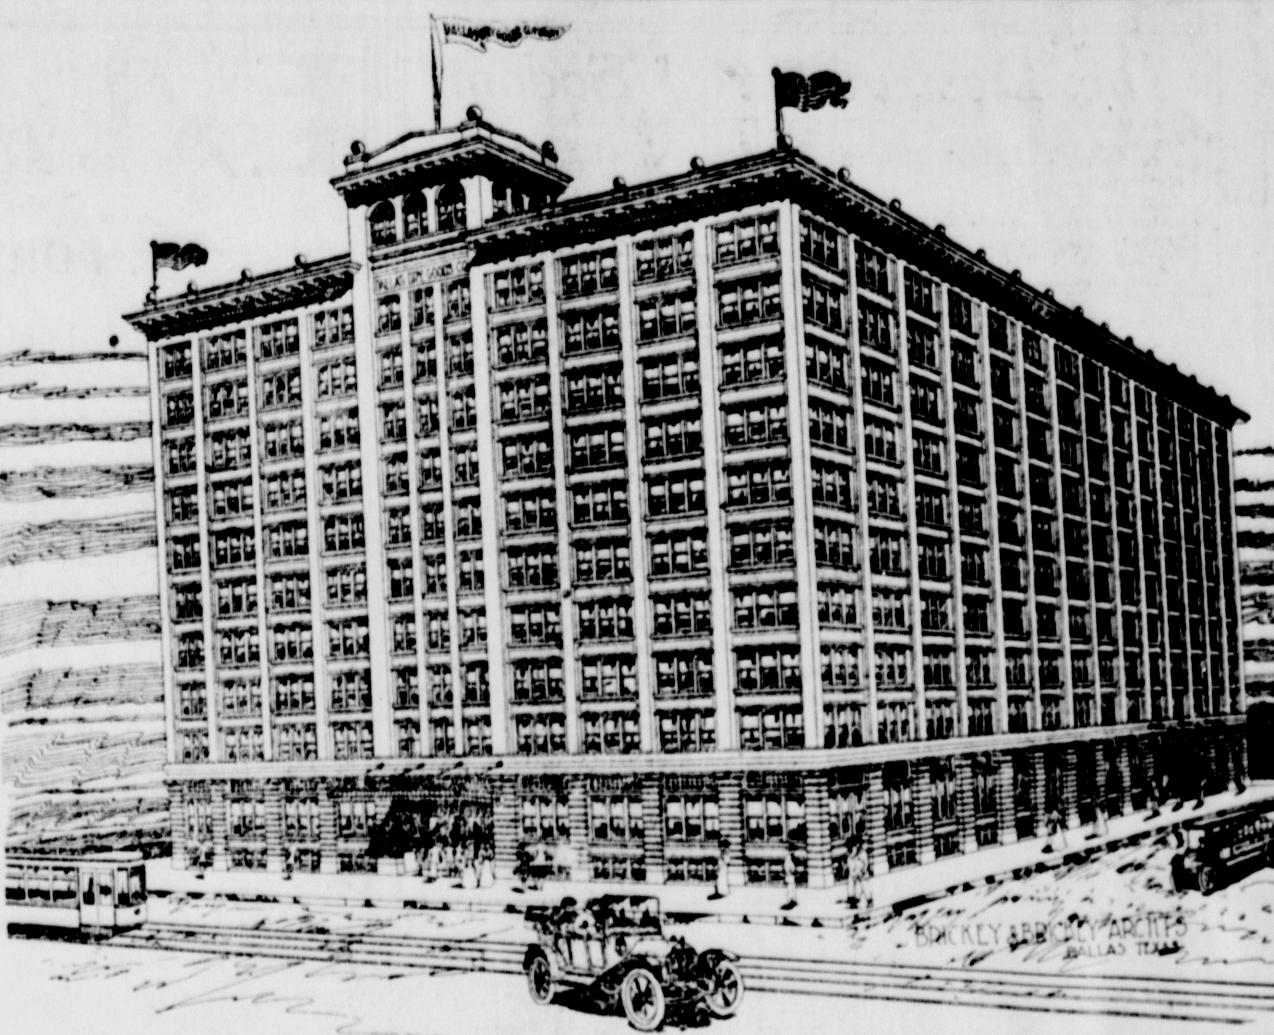

Fourth: Our expenses will be less in percentage than in any similar institution, because the larger the volume of business the lower the rate of expense.

Fifth: Our profit with the immense quantities of merchandise manufactured for ourselves, or bought at the lowest prices, and with expenses reduced to a minimum, our profits are bound to be large on the capital invested.

This is the first time the merchants in Texas have had an opportunity to become interested in a strictly legitimate manufacturing and wholesale mercantile business from which the element of doubt is entirely eliminated. This cannot be said about many other investment stocks which are in the hands of promoters or speculators.

Our business will be conducted without stock exchange go-betweens, by business men and merchants of successful record, who are pledged to remain in active charge of affairs for years to come.

We have the combination and wealth of many merchants in our organization. We will open our doors to a great and profitable business. The DRY GOODS COMPANY, and it is meeting with hearty approval by the leading merchants.

To merchants who are our stockholders we will give a five per cent trade discount on all their purchases, until the amount of trade discounts received by the merchant equals his investment, then his trade discount ceases and his dividends increase.

With the large capital stock we will have we can carry our customers at a low rate of interest. Our interests being mutual, any deserving merchant will be accommodated liberally. This is the ideal profit sharing plan.

The merchants who create the profits should share in the profits. The greatest industrial institutions in the world are operating under profit sharing systems.

The largest wholesale dry goods companies in the United States have distributed their capital stock where it has been influential in securing business. In many places those large companies have purchased the controlling interest of department stores to secure for them a permanent outlet for the sale of their merchandise. Those large wholesale houses also control and sell the output of many factories on which they make very large profits. The tendency of the retail dry goods trade today is to buy from firms who control large capital and carry heavy stocks of all kinds of merchandise and who can extend to the merchants a liberal line of credit.

With our large capital stock distributed among thousands of retail merchants and carrying very heavy stocks and of great variety, and being able to deliver to the retail merchants the merchandise within three days anywhere in Texas, while the Northern firms take from one to three weeks, and costs the merchant a much greater freight rate than when he buys from us.

It is the thousands of investors throughout the country, who by putting their investments together have made possible many of the greatest enterprises of the present age. With such cooperation a few capitalists would dominate. Co-operation of many satisfied stockholders is preferable to the domination of a few capitalists.

A few examples of the profit sharing plan is the United Cigar Stores Co., Ivory Soap Co., U. S. Steel Corporation and the United Drug Company, and many other large corporations too numerous to mention, are can fully appreciate the great advantage and prestige it will give the retail merchants to have connection with such a Texas institution.

The nucleus it will furnish for advertising alone will be a feature of inestimable value, as advertising is the gauntlet gun with which we defeat competition and fight our way to supremacy.

We will be the largest wholesale dry goods company in the South. The constitution of the company is a conservative, carefully arranged instrument, and at the same time sufficiently elastic to meet the demands which future progress will require of it.

We believe, with our large capital, should do a business the first year of $5,000,000, and should make at least a net profit of 10 per cent on our sales, which would be $500,000 divided among our stockholders.

Things move along so rapidly now-a-days that people who say "I can't be done" are interrupted by somebody doing it.

Pessimists, chronic critics and fault finders are the wet blankets in every community. They discourage honest effort and retard, if possible, every new enterprise. They know little of the doings of people.

A few examples of the profit sharing plan is the United Cigar Stores Co., Ivory Soap Co., U. S. Steel Corporation and the United Drug Company, and many other large corporations too numerous to mention, are owned by thousands of stockholders and these companies are the most successful in the world, and it is all due to co-operation in trade and the profit sharing plan.

The question is frequently asked who is behind the Dallas Dry Goods Company?

CRITICISM.

The answer to this question is that the directors and officers, who are principally merchants, are behind the company to at least $250,000.

Merchants and bankers in four hundred towns and villages are behind it on an additional $1,000,000.

When the merchants and bankers who are the brains, backbone and control of the capital and common wealth are behind this corporation with their unbiased judgement, what will be the result of the establishment of this great corporation?

Adverse critics have always been brought against the ability to run institutions of such magnitude, and when you hear these people talk you would imagine that when they died that the wholesale dry goods business would be at a standstill, but you know that this is not a fact, for you know all the people that lived for the past 1000 years are all dead and the world moves on.

We have, and are connecting with this enterprise, the best available management that can be secured, and you can depend on it that our business will be a great success.

Managed by men of integrity, judgment and creative ability, aided by the support and confidence of those identified with the enterprise, all of whom are actuated by the highest motives and an honest determination to exert every possible effort to carry out the plans outlined by the Company, success is assured. Possessing these qualities the incentive is to build up, with such men and principled stockholders are safe. There are living examples of "the square deal" and in carrying the project to success they will carry the retail merchant forward to enjoy with them the benefits and advantages of this ideal profit sharing enterprise.

For further information, we invite all the merchants of Texas who are not stockholders, to correspond with us.

Speculation is eliminated as to dividends being paid by our company. We sell from the manufacturer to the consumer. We pay no middleman's profit. The managers of our business are all heavy stockholders in it.

Our business will not be done exclusively with merchants who are stockholders, but we will compete vigorously in the open market for as much trade as we can secure on a profitable basis.

The advertising and publicity feature that a wide distribution of the stock affords is recognized by merchants no matter where located. The influence of a large number of widely situated merchants in influencing business and popularizing the company, is considered a valuable asset.

The officers of the company are well known, successful business-building men; they are confident and enthusiastic. The substantial progress made and the encouragement received from merchants and investors all over the Southwest insures immediate success. The attractiveness of the investment, its absolute safety and the assurance of immediate returns on the money invested, are features that appeal to the conservative investor.

In this exceptional age, this is an opportunity, the crystallization of which means much for those who realize it, and realize it is a great opportunity to succeed. It is an opportunity to become identified with a creative enterprise with a future. Every stockholder has a vote and a say who shall manage the business.

The officers of the company are managed by men of integrity, judgment and creative ability, aided by the support and confidence of those identified with the enterprise, all of whom are actuated by the highest motives and an honest determination to exert every possible effort to carry out the plans outlined by the Company, success is assured. SOCIAL CLUBS TO URGE NEW LAW

WILL PLACE RESTRICTIONS ON SALE OF LIQUOR IN THE CLUBROOMS.

NO MUSHROOM MEMBERSHIP

Applications Must be Posted Thirty Days, and $10 is the Lowest Initiation Fee.

Austin, Mar. 7.—"Mushroom membership" in social clubs is to be prohibited if the bill that was prepared under the direction of the convention of social organizations held in Austin a few days ago, becomes a law.

Former Senator John L. Peeler, who was chairman of the meeting, has appointed the following members of an executive committee to look after the legislation.

D. Henry, San Antonio; C. A. Goeth, San Antonio; Will Carroll, Waco; J. D. Wilkerson, Beaumont; W. W. Turney, El Paso; Lewis Fisher, Galveston; Chester H. Bryan, Houston; J. W. Pierson, Dallas; Al A. Schmidt, Dallas; W. B. Fitzhugh, Fort Worth; Clint Giddings, Brenham; Wm. N. Bonner, Wichita Falls; Rudolph Kleberg, Austin; M. H. Rowzee, Austin.

Under the recent ruling of the attorney general, social clubs are not privileged now under the laws of Texas to sell liquors in their club rooms or members or otherwise. Such a ruling interferes materially with the privileges of members of many organizations in the state, and there is a great deal of interest in the outcome.

The law, which is now proposed, is as follows:

Section 1. That hereafter ten or more citizens of this state may form a corporation for the support of any social club.

Section 2. By "social club" is meant a company of ten or more persons organized to meet for social intercourse and for the promotion of one or more lawful pursuits, as literature, science, art and any industry, outdoor sports not prohibited by law, with the privilege of having club rooms and buildings and serving without profit to the club or any member thereof, meals, cigars, drinks not capable of producing intoxication and, in territory where local option is not in force, spirituous, vinous and malt liquors to only bona fide members of the club and non-resident guests introduced under the rules of the club.

Local Option Restrictions.

Section 3. That no club shall be incorporated with power to dispense intoxicating liquors in any territory in this state where local option is in force, to be created for the sale of intoxicating liquors only, or for profit, or be operated in connection with any licensed saloon, and no incorporator of any club shall ever be a person whose liquor or malt license has been forfeited, and no club having the authority to dispense intoxicating liquors shall also show that such club is not located in any territory where local option is in force.

SCORES RAILROAD MAGNATE.

Reclamation Service Officials Take Issue with Charges.

Washington, March 8.—Reclamation service officials too issue with statements attributed to James J. Hill last night an address at Charleston, S. C., in which the railroad magnate was credited with charging the reclamation service as being stupid, and saying that irrigation works in the United States had cost twice as much as they should and twice as much as they would in Canada.

The service statement declares Mr. Hill cannot be well informed as to the cost of Canadian works and declared the cost of irrigation in Canada, as compared with American works, does not justify the comparison.

The statement says: "The statements attributed to Mr. Hill are extravagant and indefensible."

Supreme Court Will Decide Question Raised in Suit.

Washington, March 8.—Whether the Sherman anti-trust law forbids combinations of merchants of a town to prevent a small order house in a city of another state doing business in their town is a question the supreme court will be asked to decide next Monday to review.

The Citizens' Wholesale Supply company of Columbus, Ohio, claims that merchants and business men of Sunbury, Pa., formed a combination for such a purpose and has sued for triple damages under the Sherman anti-trust law.

The Columbus firm lost in the federal courts of Pennsylvania, under an application of the "rule of reason" test.

MacVeagh in Chicago.

Former Secretary of Treasury Discusses "Olio" Ruling.

Chicago, March 8.—Franklin MacVeagh, formerly secretary of the treasury, arrived from Washington today. He said he would not discuss at present the government's compromise in the oleomargarine case or a report of a compromise involving import valuations.

"My ruling in the oleomargarine case, I believe," was sound, and I would see no reason to change it if I were called upon to do so," said Mr. MacVeagh. "I am going to think the subject over for twenty-four hours and then if I deem a statement is called for, I will make one."

Austin, March 5.—At a supper given the pro-members of the legislature by the W. C. T. U. at the Presbyterian church last Thursday night J. B. Abbott, food and drug commissioner, gave the following address. Dr. Abbott has had two bills introduced before the present legislature, to curb the evil of soft drinks containing caffeine, and his address goes into details regarding the need of such legislation. The address:

"Soft drinks, carbonated, non-alcoholic beverages are consumed in the southern countries in marvelous quantities. There is one factory in Texas in the preparation of such beverages, and one caffeine beverage—there are about 300 such beverages sold in the south—with a view of testing it out upon its merits in court, but was immediately enjoined by a federal judge from prosecuting the case.

A pro-lawyer and ex-attorney general, General Crane, represented the defense. The federal judge is a democrat who signed the minority report in congress against the passage of the federal food and drug law.

Refers to Merits.

"Of all the organizations in Texas whose motto is 'Pro bono publico,' not one has stood by me in this fight against caffeine beverages. The religious press has encouraged the consumption of such beverages by making advertising contracts with such manufacturers. Semi-annual papers—with emphasis upon the semi—have justified them. Now as to the merits of this fight, I refer you to all the scientific literature of all ages of all civilized countries as to the poisonous effect of caffeine upon the human system. Literature that was made before pure food laws were ever made specifically. What the literature will be after these prosecutions of caffeine have begun, God only knows, man may surmise."

"Dr. Hobart Amory Hare, professor of therapeutics and materia medica in the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, writing of the effects of caffeine on the human system in his work entitled 'A Text Book of Practical Therapeutics, With Special Reference to the Application of Remedial Measures to Disease and Their Employment Upon a Rational Basis; Thirteenth Edition; Los & Febiger, Philadelphia and New York, 1909," said:

"Opinions of Others." "Caffeine has no effect on brain prophyaxis except to stimulate it, and that ultimately a brain driven along by caffeine breaks down by the concentration of its energy for the time being in one effort."

"The writer has also seen a marked rise of temperature follow its use in doses of two grains (0.12) three times a day. But this is unusual."

"Dr. V. C. Vaughn, University of Michigan, in his book, 'Cellular Toxins,' speaks of caffeine.

"The action of caffeine is directed upon the central nervous system, the brain and the kidneys. The effects of the former, that is, on the central nervous system, is one of reflex irritability, which, as in the case of strychnine, may lead to complete tetany and even paralysis."

"In a paper read by Dr. Vaughn before the Pathological Society of Philadelphia in 1904, he thus defines a poison:

MR. G. H. ELKINS, FATHER OF MISS CARRIE ELKINS

Tells How Glasses Prescribed by Dr. W. B. Georgia Relieved His Child of Headache and Nervousness—Child Could Not Attend School Only One-Half the Time—Did Not Miss a Minute in Two Years After Getting Her Glasses From Dr. Georgia.

Little Miss Carrie Elkins, who is eleven years old and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Elkins, Cedar Bluff, Texas, certainly had quite an experience during her school days before wearing glasses. Her father advises us that "she would actually cry in school because she could not accomplish her studies like most of the other pupils. Then she would become so nervous and her head would ache so violently that she had to remain out of school half of the time. We did not realize the cause until we read an article in the Waco Tribune where others who had similar conditions had been relieved by wearing Dr. Georgia's glasses. Strange as it may seem, my daughter has not had the headache since beginning the use of her glasses and has not missed one day in school since Dr. Georgia prescribed the glasses for her a little over two years ago." G. H. ELKINS.

Note:—We have prescribed in the past five years over eight thousand pairs of glasses and have had twenty-six persons to say they received no benefit from the use of our glasses. And we are positive that most of these twenty-six persons did not wear the glasses as instructed, however we are satisfied with the ratio of success, yet it is our earnest desire to satisfy and please all. ALL HAPPY IN SIAM

DR. GORE TELLS OF HIS VISITING THE "HERMIT" KING.
DOM.

Traveler Reaches Home Within 12
Hours of Appointed Time—Journey of 32,000 Miles.

(From the Washington Star.)

That travel in the present day has really been reduced to a science was an assertion made today by Dr. J. Howard Gore, of 2210 R street north, who has just returned from a trip abroad, which he began in October and during which he covered 32,000 miles. In that time, Dr. Gore used several kinds of conveyances, including railroad trains, large steam vessels, steam launches, automobiles, rickshaws, canoes and ponies.

Every railroad and steamship ticket used on the trip was in Dr. Gore's possession before he left Washington in October, and all other arrangements, including the securing of hotel accommodations, had been made. He had a schedule which he followed and so free was the entire journey from delays that he returned to this city within 12 hours of the time he had set five months ago. He attributed this largely to a good choice of seasons. The wind was with him instead of against him, he said.

Dr. Gore spent most of his time in Siam, where he was the guest of the king, Maha Vajirabudh. The public school system of this country, known so little as yet to tourists, was one of the most interesting features to Dr. Gore.

Siam's Excellent Schools.
"Siam has an excellent public school system," Dr. Gore said in describing his trip today, "and plans for university have just been adopted. I doubt whether there is a country in the world where illiteracy is so rare. One of the duties of every young man is to serve a certain length of time in the priests. Manager Chase of the New Yorks, says that if he can get into proper condition during the training trip he will cover first and move Chase to the second station.

NOBODY CAN TELL IF YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Druggist Says When Mixed
With Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray hair streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen the hair, take a few drops of the tea through your hair, taking a small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared; after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur;" it surely helps folks appear years younger.

Yesterday in Legislature.

IN THE SENATE.

Austin, March 8.—When the senate convened this morning, there was not a full attendance. By agreement the McGregor and Terrell highway commissioners were allowed to go over until Monday, and the bills affecting probate matters were set for consideration at the same time.

The bills placing pool halls and moving pictures in the contraband Sunday amusements and the bill forbidding the sale of liquor in clubs was set for consideration next Thursday.

The senate finally passed the McGregor bill cutting out the paid tubercular commission and substituting in its place a commission of citizens to be paid only for actual services rendered in meetings.

Consideration then began on what is called Westbrooks' "anti-graft bill"—a bill forbidding any person in any way connected with a public service or other corporation from becoming a member of the legislature. It precipitated an extended fight and brought on many amendments, one of which were of a burlesque character.

Greer offered an amendment that where an officer or attorney of a corporation elected to the legislature by a constituency, who has fully advised of his employment or connections, the public officer shall not be compelled to resign his corporate connections. This was finally adopted.

Lattimore offered an amendment providing that no newspaper owned in whole or in part by a member of the legislature shall accept advertising or paid matter from a corporation during the term of the member of the legislature.

A point of order was raised that this amendment is not germane to the bill and Lieutenant Governor Mayes, who is a newspaper owner, called attention to the chair. Westbrook, author of the bill, accepted the amendment, and Taylor, another newspaper owner, expressed his approval. It was adopted.

Nugent, who had signed the bill as a joint author, asked that his name be stricken from the bill, as he had not agreed with it.

Conner then offered an amendment forbidding any newspaper belonging to any member of the legislature from commenting favorably or unfavorably on any corporation.

Greer congratulated the corporations of Texas that they have such a champion as the legislator from Brown," remarked Westbrook.

Vaughan insisted that the legislature was considering a serious matter as a joke. He protested against it vigorously.

Senate bills passed finally:

By Collins and Paulus, the 54-hour law for female employees in industrial enterprises.

By Darwin and Astin, bill fixing the terms of the boards of regents of the higher education at six years, thus carrying into effect the constitutional amendment on this subject.

By Conner, creating the board of regents of the John Tarlton college at Stephenville taking that institution out of the hands of the present board, composed of the governors, superintendents of public instruction and county judge of Erath county.

By Vaughan, permitting one telegraph or telephone company to buy property of another company.

The joint resolution by Senator Kauffman submitting an amendment to the constitution, permitting the state to reward the defense of the state treasury from robbery just after the close of the civil war, was engrossed. The senate then adjourned until Monday morning. Senator Collins introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of beverages to minors in which is mixed caffeine.

Women Being Educated.

"Yes, there is a woman's forward movement there," said Dr. Gore in response to a question, "but they have no suffragettes. Great impetus has been given the education of girls of that country by the fact that the sisters and a cousin of the king have gone into the schools as teachers. Then, too, in all the schoolrooms is a king's desk—a desk donated by the king, at which the honor pupil each month is allowed to sit.

The Siamese people have a cost-of-living problem and a servant problem, too," said Dr. Gore. "They told me the cost of living had increased about 30 per cent in the last six or eight years. They have trouble in securing good, reliable servants also.

They are a happy, contented people, however. There is no social unrest in that country, for crops are ripening weekly, and they know that if the crop this week fails that of next week will probably turn out well. The prodigality of nature, and the climatic conditions make the people less energetic than in many other countries. In Siam one sees none of the greed and grasping that one sees in countries with cold seasons.

The prodigality of nature, and the climatic conditions make the people less energetic than in many other countries. In Siam one sees none of the greed and grasping that one sees in countries with cold seasons.

"Although I have known Siam for 12 years theoretically, I never knew it practically before. I was impressed by the thorough trustworthiness of the Siamese, and it was the only place where I saw no 'itching palms.' Not a native would accept a tip for any service performed, but they will soon get over this when more tourists visit that country."

Motion pictures are plentiful in Siam, said Dr. Gore, and are one of the chief amusements of the people.

Titles Must Be Earned.

"Every inducement is offered to young men to work themselves up," Dr. Gore explained. "It is the most democratic country in the world in regard to titles. Titles are not handed down in Siam as they are in many other countries, but diminish as they go down. For instance, the son of a major would be only a minister. In a few generations the title is lost entirely, and the ones that have had it will have lost it."

The change of names with the change of rank, which is a custom peculiar to Siam, is very confusing, said Dr. Gore.

The anti-pass law designed to give passes to Confederate veterans and their widows was taken up on final passage. Previously it had entailed great debate. This morning before it was finally passed it was amended to allow free passes to five deputy sheriffs in counties of over 100,000, and to give passes to city health officers.

An amendment allowing the governor passes was defeated. Passes were allowed to presidents and superintendents or orphan homes, not to exceed three in number for any institution.

An amendment striking the provision of the present law allowing railroad commissioners passes was adopted; an amendment granting the privilege to the state revenue agent was lost; an amendment allowing the state auditor adjusters was adopted; an amendment allowing them to legislators lost; an amendment making it mandatory to give them to railroad commissioners lost, as an effort to strike out the provision allowing them to the game, fish and deer commissioners and two deputies failed.

An amendment was then adopted restricting the officials to use of passes only on official business after an effort to eliminate everybody but railroad officials and employees had failed.

Argument at once began on the Bohemian illiteracy bill, which had previously been engrossed. Efforts several days ago had been made to rescind this action, and on final passage a hard fight was made on it.

By voting the full strength of the pro pass bill, it was finally passed by a vote of 61 to 29, after amending it so as to exempt all persons under the poll tax law. This was insisted on by Coffey so that Confederate veterans would not be brought under its provisions. As it is strictly a pro measure, and the governor being understood to be opposed to it, there is not thought to be much chance for it to become a law.

The compulsory education bill recently killed, was ordered re-committed. The authors of the bill will attempt to have it fixed up in committee so that those who oppose only minor details in the bill will support it.

The house engrossed Cooper's South Park Independent school district bill and a number of local road and school district bills.

Terrell's senate bill providing for a road loan for McLennan county was passed, a vote will be taken so that it is effective immediately. The house made Burges' and Glasscock's irrigation bill pending business after Monday's calendar is disposed of in the senate, after a day's consideration, killed Collins', Westbrook's and others' anti-graft bill.

The Collins' enemies commended the bill as being well written.

APOLLO
Player Piano

It is a Player
Piano
Plus—

Why are the world's great pianists great? Is it because they invariably strike the correct notes? No—absolutely no! If that were the foundation of a pianist's reputation, their music would be no better than that of the ordinary player piano—for all player pianos strike the correct notes.

Technique plus expression—these are the great things that make great pianists great and these are the things that all player pianos, with one exception, lack. The Solo-Apollo is a player piano plus expression—a player piano plus each and every quality that you'll find in the soul or the brain or the fingertips of the great pianists of the world.

Think of it! The Solo-Apollo accents the melody like a master, omits it altogether, playing only the accompaniment and transposes the accompaniment into any of eight different keys. No other player piano in the world has ever succeeded in doing this.

And every detail of the Solo-Apollo is perfect. The Metronome Motor rewinds the music without touching the pedals. You never saw that in any other player. It is exclusive with the Apollo. The Auto-Tracker—the Down Touch on the keys—like a human being. These are a few of the things that render Apollo music possible.

Don't these things make the Apollo worth looking into? We'll be glad to furnish full information if you will furnish your name and address.

NAVIGATORS DEFEATED BY THE
ST. LOUIS BROWNS IN THE FIRST
EXHIBITION GAME; SCORE 12 TO 2

The youthful battery selected by Carson to lead the Navigators to victory yesterday over the St. Louis Browns in the first exhibition game of the season, fell before George Stovall's hopefuls. The score was 12 to 2. The game was interesting to the fans who made the initial trip to Katy park up to the seventh inning when Byran, sent in to relieve Lawrence, started out wild and the visitors solved his delivery. Before the rally ceased six scores were piled up.

Apparently Byran was slightly off his mark and struck another in the second inning and held the Browns to two hits and one score. In addition he was credited with connecting with one of Mitchell's fast ones and Johnston had to go to the left field fence to pull down the fly.

Early Hamilton, the sensational southpaw of the American league last season, worked the first three innings. He retired six of Carson's leading stickers at the plate, and young Crosby, a catcher from the Texas-Oklahoma league, was the only batter who hit safely off Hamilton. Hamilton spent the winter on the Pacific coast and has been practicing for several weeks.

Napier, a young pitcher drafted from the same league where Crosby got his start, relieved Hamilton and worked good for the first two innings. Tanner swatted the first ball he pitched through the infield to center, but went out on a steal. In the sixth inning Lawrence started the hitting with a clean single to center. Beck hit to left field and Tanner sent a Texas leaguer to right field, filling the bases. The fans depended on McLaurin to clean up, but he failed. He sent a hot one to Stucker at third and Lawrence was forced home. The Browns then pulled off the first double play of the season on Stewart's hit to Napier. Beck was out at home and Stewart was out at first base.

Tanner Gets Home Run.
Tanner hit over left field fence in the eighth inning for the only other score made safe in the first inning when Red McMahon was given transportation, stole second and was safe at third on an overthrow and scored on the same play.

The first part of the game was very interesting. Dean, the young pitcher sent in to start the game, worked good and seemed to have the St. Louis team going. Only six men faced him in the first two innings. A double play in the second inning prevented Dean from taking advantage of the hit he made to left field. Dean seemed to have plenty of speed and evidently he put plenty on the ball.

At the beginning of the fourth inning Lawrence went to the box. He got away luckily the first inning. Johnston hit safe to center and was out at second on William's infield hit. Brief hit to right field. Graff sent a high one to Cricheow and Tanner took Stucker's skyer to third. Johnston sent a long drive to the center field fence in the sixth inning and was out when he tried to stretch a two-bagger into a three-base hit.

Fatal Seventh Inning.

The scoring started in the seventh. Graff and Austin, now playing third for St. Louis, walked. Roche, covering second in the place of Oleson hit safe to the infield. Alexander went out on a high fly. With the bases full Stovall decided to take a hand in the game and he batted in the place of Napier, his single to right field scored two men. Sloan singled to left field, scoring Roche and Stovall took third. Johnston was out on a high fly. Williams singled to right and Brief tripped to center. Graff scored him with a single to right and Austin ended the

Thorpe Will Make Good With Giants; Uses the Spitball

Speculations as to whether James Thorpe, the Carlisle cat, will make good in big company or not, are narrowing down at present to the belief that he will. McGraw has been watching the Indian closely since the first day.

Thorpe is being tried both as pitcher and first baseman. Wilbert Robinson, the veteran Giant catcher who is training out the young arms, believes that Thorpe will develop into a star wet flinger.

He says: "Thorpe will make a good spitball pitcher or I miss my guess. He has a fast ball and a good curve, with the control over his delivery necessary to develop him along these lines. Thorpe is a hard worker, anxious to learn the finer points of the game, and I am sure he will develop into a good player in time. Of course, we can't expect him to jump in and set the world on fire right off the reel, but he will certainly show up a great deal better than the average player in his debut as a major leaguer."

In a practice game at the springs, Thorpe pounded out a single and a triple in three times at bat and thereby brought great joy to the heart of the Hon. Mugsy. McGraw is still undecided whether to make him a pitcher, first baseman, or an outfielder.

"He certainly is fast for a big man," said the manager, "and he is strong enough to hit well without taking a long swing that he has always used, because he didn't know any better. He has a sharp eye, and I can see no reason why he should not hit them on the nose as Chief Meyers does if he chokes his bat and drives the ball with his wrist and forearms. If he can hit there is nothing to tell him he will do. We know what kind of a pitcher he is later on."

With Thorpe on first base, Evers on second, Groh at short and Stock at third, McGraw had a nifty infield in operation yesterday. Robbie stuck his portable home plate in the hip pocket of his uniform when he left the hotel and rounded up all the pitchers for a workout down in the fence corner away from the maddening throng. He had a dozen of them tossing him straight ones.

Local News Notes

Examinations for the mid-winter term of Baylor will begin next Tuesday afternoon and continue through Friday afternoon, making way for the opening of the spring term Monday, March 17. The midwinter term has been a very successful one from the standpoint of attendance and work accomplished and the prospects are that the spring term will be equally favored.

Members of the Baylor Press club have fixed April 30 as the date for their annual banquet and everything in connection with this, the leading social event of the year among the under-graduates, will have the most careful attention. Committees have been named to care for the various details and an effort will be put forth to have the banquet of this year eclipse any of its predecessors. The place for holding the banquet has not been determined.

President Brooks of Baylor spent Friday night in Dallas, where he went to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Texas Baptist Memorial sanitarium. From there he went to Coolidge, where he spent Saturday night and Sunday in the interest of the endowment campaign of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

To fill the engagements of Drs. J. B. Gambrill and L. D. Scarborough, with their classes at the Seminary at Fort Worth the past week, Prof. J. B. Tidwell of the chair of the English Bible at Baylor, went to Fort Worth the past week. On Tuesday he was at Meridian, addressing the Bosque county workers meeting on the cause of Christian education.

Thomas C. Smith, adjutant of Post Cleburne Camp, United Confederate Veterans, is still confined to his home on South Fourth street as a result of an sprain in his foot, resulting from a mis-step on the walk of his home several weeks ago.

Under the direction of Prof. Anton Navratil, organizer of the newly formed Baylor orchestra, gave their first public performance the past week when they played several selections at the regular chapel exercises Tuesday morning. About forty young men and women make up the orchestra and the faculty and students were well pleased with the excellent showing made and hope for another appearance of the musicians in near future.

With the close of the midwinter term the class in journalism which has been conducted by Miss Dorothy Scarborough at Baylor University, as an elective, class will complete its regular labors, though a number of the young men will continue to prosecute practical newspaper work as far as possible during the spring term. Practically all of them have decided to take up newspaper work as a profession and will continue their college courses with that end in view.

Candidate for Hawaii Governor.

Washington, March 8.—L. O. McCandless of Hawaii was brought to the attention of Secretary Lane today as candidate for the governorship of Hawaii. John H. Wilson, democratic national committeeman for the islands. Former Secretary Fischer made a special trip to Hawaii and investigated charges against Governor Frear. His report, in effect, was that there was no foundation for the charges. Secretary Lane has reached no conclusion as to what action he may recommend.

"If Anything in Real Estate; Matters Not What, See D. E. Hirschfield"

The week just passed has been devoid of any sensational doings in real estate. Sales of small dimensions have been reported, mostly lots and home places. Under surface rumors have hinted of a good sized deal on a cross street, near Austin, but up to this time nothing definite has come out. There seems to be a strong undercurrent in that direction being maintained and developing slowly in such lots. Prices on choice Austin street lots and buildings thereon are getting above a fair return on the investment and the overplus, represents speculative values hereafter, if we are to consider the character of buildings. Modern structures should give place to the present samples of the primitive Waco, or a new neighborhood for substantial business houses will have to be created. This agency has lost three outside customers recently, because of present prices on Austin street where these parties wanted to be placed. Franklin and Washington streets should be built up, and west of Eighth street must come to bring in better conditions. For owners of Austin street property to think of getting Dallas, Houston or Fort Worth values, is a great mistake. It is true that the property is in strong hands, but if such be so, why not show faith by constructing modern buildings commensurate with conditions? We regard Franklin, Washington, Webster and west of Eighth, on the three leading business streets, as worthy of future consideration. For home sites, the hill tops are sure to

OIL! OIL! OIL!--WHO'S TALKING OIL?

THE PEOPLE OF McLENNAN COUNTY

What Have They Done to Develop It for the Past Twenty Years?

NOTICE!

Stop one moment Mister Tax Payer. Do you as a citizen of Waco and McLennan county realize what it means to you to have Gas in Paying Quantities in Your City? Have you investigated what the Waco Oil & Gas Company are trying to do for the City of Waco and McLennan County at Large? Are you going to continue to make investments in other towns and counties and help improve their section when you have Greater Opportunities here in Your Own County begging for capital and experience to develop same?

Now, do you, as a taxpayer of your county, feel that it is right for OTHER PEOPLE to develop YOUR COUNTY without your co-operation with us in this GREAT UNDERTAKING? NOW, if you want to see GAS in THIS CITY, GET BUSY AND DEVELOP THE WACO OIL & GAS COMPANY.

DON'T YOU KNOW OIL has been produced in merchantable qualities at a shallow strata for ten years in your county?

NOW, IT IS THE INTENTION OF THE WACO OIL & GAS COMPANY to DRILL several test wells to a deeper strata as well as several shallow ones in the OIL FIELDS of SOUTH BOSQUE, and no one that has the interest of this city at heart can afford to miss the opportunity of becoming interested in the WACO OIL & GAS COMPANY before it is too late to purchase a lot or lots at the ground floor basis, which lots are being sold for the price of $30.00 each for the purpose of raising a sufficient amount of money for drilling of wells and building of storage tanks, and installing the pipe lines and the pumping station. THEN EACH and EVERY LOT OWNER will participate EQUALLY and alike in proportion to all oil or gas produced and sold, as per number of lots owned by EACH PERSON.

Dr. R. McCormick, of SOUTH BOSQUE, TEX., has been appointed and has accepted the position of trustee for the LAND and LOT OWNERS. And the receipts of the DEVELOPMENT FUND is placed in THE PROVIDENT NATIONAL BANK OF WACO, TEXAS, which bank has been selected as the main depository for the COMPANY.

AND REMEMBER, if oil or gas is encountered in paying quantities, it not only helps the lot purchasers of the WACO OIL & GAS COMPANY, but as a citizen or business man of the city of Waco, don't you believe if oil or gas is encountered in paying quantities that you will profit by it? And remember, we are not asking the citizens of Waco nor McLennan county for contributions, as the promoters of the WACO OIL & GAS COMPANY are financing this Company on the Building Loan Plan. They believed in this county to this extent after carefully investigating the oil field, that they are not only giving their time, their efforts, their energy and services, but putting up their money as well to show their good faith in this new undertaking.

Now, don't you believe the business men of WACO and the citizens of McLennan County at large should purchase lots in this proposition to help develop this field, for if oil or gas is encountered we hope to be able to continue drilling on our land and leases, and from our past experience in operating in other proven oil fields we believe that we will be able to repay the lot purchasers many times per annum on their small investments placed in this Company. AND if interested in the Development of this COMPANY, please PHONE 2182 NEW PHONE and a representative of this COMPANY will call on you, or call in person at the COMPANY'S OFFICE. Should you order by mail, please make all drafts, checks or money orders payable to the

AUTO SALE ETHICS

DECISION AFFECTS SALE DEALINGS OF "BUZZ WA-GONS."

Court Finds That Rival Salesmen Cannot Attack Integrity of Manufacturers at Any Time.

A great deal has been said about the ethics and standards for automobile salesmanship, not that the methods employed in selling automobiles is below par, but due to the fact that in this field, as everywhere else, offences frequently occur that need to be met in a positive way to conserve the interests of all concerned.

Sometimes less scrupulous salesmen are given to methods with little propriety of what is right and truth, only to find that the boomerang justly aimed at another comes back with proverbial force and certainty. A salesman in a western city has just had this fact brought to his realization in a way that will unquestionably change his future tactics and prove a warning to others inclined to forget the old maxim that honesty is the best policy.

Sale is Prevented.

A dealer of the Abbott-Detroit line was about to close a sale when an anxious competitor intervened, claiming to have positive information of the financial instability of the company building this make of cars, as well as publishing other malicious statements which he later found necessary to retract.

Being influenced by these statements the prospective customer purchased another car, stating to the Abbott-Detroit agent that he had done so as a result of the competitor's representations.

The Abbott-Detroit dealer followed up the matter aggressively, and made preparations to bring the competitor to task in the local courts.

When the counsel for the competitors reviewed the evidence and realized that the Abbott Motor company was in position to prove the statements false, and inasmuch as the purchaser admitted that he would have bought the first car, had such representations not been made to him, the counsel advised his client to forfeit to the Abbott company the amount of profit that their dealer would have realized on the car he had made the sale.

Purchaser Cancels Order.

The competitor objected to the procedure and stated that if it would be the same to all parties concerned, he would cancel the order for the car and go ahead and take the Abbott-Detroit as he had intended doing in the first place.

That was considered an equitable adjustment of the matter all around, thus settling the trouble out of court. This is one of the most unique cases that has been brought to the attention of automobile dealers in some time.

Austrian Steamer Aground.

Pensacola, Fla., March 8.—The Austrian freight steamer Maria, bound from Tampa, Fla., to Pensacola with a cargo of phosphate rock aboard, is aground tonight on the outer gulf of Mexico beach, six miles from here. The accident happened last night, and tugs today were unable to float the steamer. The vessel is said to be in no danger and is not badly damaged.

Gibson to Get Second Trial.

Goshen, N. Y., March 8.—Announcement by District Attorney Wilson that he will try Burton W. Gibson a second time for murder at the May term of the supreme court, was apparently welcome news today to the imprisoned lawyer. The jury disagreed on his first trial for the murder of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo on Greenwood Lake, N. Y., last June.

Reciprocity Bills Proposed.

Washington, March 8.—Several congressional leaders are preparing to introduce bills for the repeal of the Canadian reciprocity at the coming extra session of congress. Whether the final action will be in a separate measure or as an amendment to the new tariff bill, has not been decided. Bills for the same purpose failed of passage or approval at the last congress.

Gov. Colton Called to Washington.

San Juan, P. R., March 8.—Governor George Colton, who was a passenger on the steamer Zulia, which sailed today for New York, Governor Colton was called to Washington because of the critical illness of his father there.

Fire Destroys Dry Goods Store.

New Orleans, March 8.—Fire of unknown origin on Orleans street, between Terpsichore and Euterpe streets this morning caused a loss of $150,000.

The Fair, a dry goods store, was among the buildings destroyed.

First Vote Over a Veto.

The first presidential veto to be overruled by the United States congress was in relation to a bill forbidding the building of any steam vessel for the revenue service unless by special appropriation, which measure was introduced by President Tyler 68 years ago, February 21, 1845. Both houses of congress immediately passed the bill over the veto and thus established a precedent. During the Pierce administration five bills, providing for the improvements of rivers, were passed over vote.

TALKS TO THE HOUSE

MRS. NANNIE WEBB CURTIS MAKES SPEECH IN REPRESENTATIVE HALL.

Urge More Stringent Saloon Regulations and Talks Against Dope Drinks at Soda Fountains.

Austin, Tex., March 8.—Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the house last night, Mrs. Nannie Webb Curtis, president of the Texas W. C. T. U., this morning addressed the members of the house prior to the convention of that body. She spoke in the main in favor of the enactment of the bill to prevent the sale of drugged or doped drinks, especially condemning a certain well-known soda fountain beverage. Also she urged the enactment of the bill to prohibit serving of drinks at clubs; the bill to prevent illiterates from voting, and also urged that the serving of drinks in hotels and cars should be prohibited.

"A gentleman remarked to me yesterday," said she, "that saloons are prohibited from selling drinks to minors and could not even admit women, if it is different with hotels and cafes. If a man were to invite a decent girl to enter a barroom with him, she would scream for the police; but can with impunity ask a woman to go with him to a hotel or cafe. Women, even minors, are served with intoxicating liquors at such places. They do not know the regulations which saloons must observe at their peril."

Then, the workingman, if he wants a drink, must go in the open to a saloon to get it. The kid-gloved people can go to the privacy of their clubs. This isn't right. All should be subjected to the same rules."

Mrs. Curtis declared that as matters stand the saloonman is unjustly discriminated against. He declares that he has a right to pursue his business, she said, because he pays for the privilege.

"But what he pays for his license is not the total price he pays," said Mrs. Curtis. "He and his family are ostracized from the church, from society and from the Masonic lodges. Yet the hotel or cafe keeper who serves drinks to women and children and the druggist who sells doped drinks—these and their families are received with open arms by society."

Speaking at length in condemnation of the sale of drinks which are sold at fountains, she related certain incidents and continuing said:

"Yes, we women talk about you members of the legislature, and we are marking your progress. I am not making threats, but I did say that any member of the legislature failed to keep his pledges to his people, I would go into his district and help defeat him for re-election. That isn't a threat; it is the simple truth."

"We are out for reform. Several states have passed the equal franchise law. Is Texas to fall behind? The Arkansas legislature has passed a law which will make that state practically state wide prohibition in 1913. Our state superintendent writes us that Arkansas will dump its saloons, Lott, Marlin, Gosbeck, Mexia, Wortham, Richmond, Corsicana, Rice, Alma, Ennis, Garrett, Palmer, Trumbull, Wilmer and Hutchings."

"Tuesday, the fourth and last day's run, is from Temple to San Antonio, a distance of 163½ miles, and takes in Holland, Bartlett, Granger, Austin, Buda, San Marcos, Goodwyn and New Braunfels.

"It is probable that there will be several non-contestant entries besides the Pilot car and the Oakland Press car. Col. Charles S. Diehl and three members of the San Antonio Light staff will be in the press car. Those of the staff will be Jack Shields, sporting editor; Kenneth Perry, of the advertising staff who has had personal charge of organizing the run, and Frank Richardson, official photographer for the Light."

Speaking of the bill to prohibit a voter from receiving assistance in making out his ballot, she said:

"I am proud of Mr. Burmeister, whom I met this morning for the first time. I say, 'All hail and honor for the man who stands for a clean ballot. That is the very foundation of this republic. Give us this bill; let us have a clean ballot and Texas will keep pace with any state in the union.'

"I hope you will pass that bill to prohibit drinking in saloons andillard halls—if you must have such balls, I think they are a nuisance."

"I hope you will pass the bill requiring the consent of a majority of the poll tax payers in a precinct in order to secure a saloon license. Arkansas has substantially that law. I am going back to my office and report to our organization what I have found at Austin. I hope the next news I may be able to send them is that the Texas legislature has kept up with Arkansas and China.

"Also I hope you will give us women the right to own and control our property."

On motion of Mr. Tarver, the members present, or most of them, gave Mrs. Curtis a rising vote of appreciation. She left this morning for her headquarters in Waco.

ALLEGES "RACE" SWINDLE.

Georgian Arrested on Charge of Being Implicated.

Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—J. N. Bateman of Atlanta, Ga., was arrested here today, charged with having been implicated in an alleged fraudulent horse race plot by which Frank Rothleiter of Kigore, Neb., asserts he was swindled out of $9000.

The alleged swindle is reputed to have taken place in Miami. Bateman is being held for the Miami officials. Warrants for two associates of Bateman have been issued. Rothleiter charges that Bateman and his associates influenced him to bet on races in alleged pool rooms, asserting that they had a "sure thing" system and that finally they influenced him to wager $9000.

CONTINUE LIQUOR SHIPMENTS.

Express Companies in Kentucky Seek Test Case.

Louisville, Ky., March 8.—In the absence of special instructions from their respective headquarters, local officers of the various express companies are receiving liquor for shipment without regard to the provisions of the Webb law, which restricts delivery in dry states. A statement attributed to A. C. Summers, representing the Adams and the Southern Express companies, says those companies will pay no attention to the law unless the courts pass upon it.

Points in South Carolina which are "dry" and in dry counties of North Carolina, however, are excepted in receiving liquor for shipment, but this is said to be apart from the Webb law.

Canal Zone Report for Wilson.

Washington, March 8.—Daniel C. French, chairman and Frederick Law Olmsted, vice chairman of the National Fine Arts commission, have returned to Washington from a visit to the canal zone and are now preparing a report for President Wilson, the artistic embellishment of the great waterway.

The first robbery by this time could have backed his watchmen and other men he had "covered" into the shipping teller's room. The men could then have grabbed as much as they could carry and been off down the hall, retracing their steps, out through the open door up the incline and into a waiting automobile, and in twenty minutes be in Virginia or Maryland. This could all have happened in broad daylight, within a stone's throw, just across the street from the White House.

Henry Gable has just been pardoned out of prison in Tacoma to return to Minnesota to claim an estate of $75,000.

AUTO RUN PLANNED

SAN ANTONIO LIGHT ARRANGING ENDURANCE CONTEST TO DALLAS AND RETURN.

R. W. Carr of San Antonio Visits Waco and Tells of the Route—Ladies Will Try It.

Austin, Tex., March 8.—Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the house last night, Mrs. Nannie Webb Curtis, president of the Texas W. C. T. Also she urged the enactment of the bill to prohibit serving of drinks at clubs; the bill to prevent illiterates from voting, and also urged that the serving of drinks in hotels and cars should be prohibited.

The prizes offered will aggregate over $1,000. Automobile dealers and owners in many towns through which the contestants will pass, are working on welcoming demonstrations. Of the Endurance run Mr. Carr said:

"Many inquiries have been received in regard to the special prize to be awarded to the car with the least number of penalties carrying a woman passenger. Several well known women autoists are considering entering their cars. The route this year is an ideal one—just long enough for a real test of the cars and not too long for a pleasure trip."

"The autoists will spend the first night at Cameron, 165 miles from the starting point—passing through New Braunfels, San Marcos, Austin, Round Rock, Hutto, Taylor and the many small places which lie between these points."

Leaving Cameron Sunday morning

the objective point is Dallas, 181 miles away. Sunday's route will take the run through Bel Arnold, Rosebud, Lott, Marlin, Gosbeck, Mexia, Wortham, Richmond, Corsicana, Rice, Alma, Ennis, Garrett, Palmer, Trumbull, Wilmer and Hutchings.

The longest day's run is scheduled for Monday, when 198 miles will be covered by the speedometerists this part of the route from Dallas to Temple and takes in Fort Worth, Waco, Mays and Pendleton.

"Tuesday, the fourth and last day's run, is from Temple to San Antonio, a distance of 163½ miles, and takes in Holland, Bartlett, Granger, Austin, Buda, San Marcos, Goodwyn and New Braunfels.

IN COTTON MARKET

DEALS ARE WEAK AND UNSETLED THROUGH SHORT SESSION.

CLOSE BARELY STEADY AT NET DECLINE OF 4 TO 7 POINTS—SELLING BECOMES FEWER.

New York, March 8.—The cotton market was rather weak and unsettled today and selling seemed to be more general and aggressive than at any time since the January break. Covering and trade buying checked the declines but caused only slight rallies and the close was barely steady at a net decline of 4 to 7 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 2 points without paying any apparent attention to somewhat better cables than expected, favorable dry goods trade and steady overnight spot advices from the south. The offerings became heavy right after the call and the market soon turned weak. Rather free selling of March created an unfavorable impression as to the spot situation, even though March maintained its premium and during the middle of the morning old crop positions showed a net loss of from 8 to 12 points, with July relatively weak, as in bearish quarters there seems to be a preference for sales of that position. Owing to moderate trade buying the new crop sold only 6 points under the closing figures of yesterday and below 11.80 for May, a pretty active demand developed. This seemed to be mostly in the way of covering, but as price steadied from the lowest, there also was considerable trade buying, with spot prices showing a recovery of some 2 to 5 points on active positions.

The talk around the ring did not suggest any fresh feature in the news to account for the increased aggressiveness of sellers, but bears were said to be basing their operations on a favorable view of the new crop outlook, unsettled financial conditions abroad, the continued slack spot demand and the absence of any important bull speculation.

The failure of a Savannah spot firm, rumors regarding which had reached the trade earlier in the week, was officially announced in New York this morning, but was not a factor in the trading. Private wires reporting a decline of 4 to 5 points in spots at Memphis no doubt contributed to the decline. Foreign houses were moderate buyers.

New Orleans, March 8.—Bears were aggressive in the cotton market today and trading was featured by strong growth of sentiment in favor of the short side. Yet, in spite of this, prices at their lowest were only six to eight points under yesterday's closing level. Bulls offered the market no support and buying came almost entirely from sellers of the earlier price. The week who were satisfied with their profits and desired to cover over Sunday.

With January at 11.90 and May threatening the 12 cent mark, buying for short account was so heavy that the downward movement was checked and a reaction to within a point of two of yesterday's close was brought about. At all times the new crop months displayed more resistance to pressure than did the old crops, although the selling was based principally on favorable new crop news. Some selling was based on the weakness in the stock market and some also on disappointing cables. The market opened steady about 3 points down compared with the last prices of yesterday. The close was at a net loss of 4 to 5 points.

The weather map showed rains only in Texas, where complaint of too little moisture has been made of late. Reports from points in Louisiana and Mississippi indicated that cotton farmers had begun planting their crop and that much of their cotton land was ready for the seed. Bears also circulated telegrams and letters claiming a great increase in the use of fertilizers over a large part of the state.

Sandy Ferguson, who will take another swing at the boxing game, has signed to meet Jeff Madden at Putney, Conn., Feb. 25.

We Announce Our Formal Spring Opening for Next Thursday, March the Thirteenth

THE BEAUTY and grandeur of Sanger Openings have gained for this store a reputation that is far reaching in its influence, and each season this great Fashion Event is looked forward to with much pleasure and anticipation. Our past achievements have led us to still greater efforts each succeeding season. And next Thursday when we draw aside the curtain revealing the work of many months of painstaking preparation to produce an Exhibition of Dame Fashion's wondrous Beauties for the Spring and Summer seasons of Nineteen Thirteen that will eclipse in every way all previous events of this kind, we believe that you will agree that nowhere is there to be found a more complete and comprehensive showing of all that is new and pretty in Apparel ready for wear or merchandise from which to fashion the new Apparel.

You'll see here what Paris, London and New York indorse—in qualities that we have made famous—at prices that we have made popular for their marked reasonableness.
